

Everyone deserves a place to feel at home

A home is more than bricks and mortar. The feeling of home comes from having a space where you are safe. A place where life can unfold and there is room for the people that you love.

Too many people don't have a place that they can call home. War, conflict and natural disasters divide communities, destroy buildings and tear families apart. Every day, there are people who suddenly find themselves without a home and are forced to flee without knowing if they will ever be able to return.

Everyone deserves a place to feel at home. That is why ferm LIVING has partnered with Red Cross. We support their work in aiding those who have lost their homes or have been forced to leave it. Together, we can make a real difference.

Our Cause - Ukraine

The destruction and suffering that the war in Ukraine has inflicted on civilians across the country is so vast that it can be difficult to comprehend. Thousands of civilians have lost their lives in the war and even more have been injured. Millions of people have been forced to flee their homes – some to other cities, others across national borders – with no certainty of when they will be able to return.

The Red Cross is on the ground in Ukraine to provide shelter, food and drink, access to clean drinking water, healthcare and financial support, aiding families in Ukraine who provide shelter for those who have been displaced internally in the country. In this way, they ensure that host families can continue to offer refugees a home while also supporting the local community.

The coming winter will be long and cold. That is why the Red Cross and ferm LIVING will support people who repair damaged homes, provide heating solutions for displaced people in refugee centers and distribute blankets and other warm sleeping equipment to the most vulnerable families.
