

2016 SEMA - JEFF NOWICKI C7 CORVETTE CONCEPT Z

Posted on November 16, 2016

JEFF NOWICKI C7 CORVETTE CONCEPT Z AT 2016 SEMA

JEFF NOWICKI C7 CORVETTE CONCEPT Z AT 2016 SEMA

Text and Photos By Wayne Ellwood

Nowicki Autosport launched his Concept Z last year. This year the car is updated, and Jeff calls it his all-new ConceptZ, which includes a range of styling, and aerodynamic aids for 2015+ Corvette Z06 models. These components are showcased on a black “Michelin-themed” 2016 Z06. The car is a nod to the more than 25-year relationship Nowicki Autosport founder Jeff Nowicki has shared with the tire company.

The unique features for the Michelin-inspired graphics include a “ghosted” image of Bibendum, the company’s famous mascot, in the hood graphic. Also, the graphics include elements linking Nowicki Autosport to its primary partners such as Purifoy Chevrolet, Brembo, BASF, and Mobil 1.

The new ConceptZ components showcased on the car build on the successful range of Concept7 Corvette Stingray components Nowicki Autosport pioneered at the launch of the Corvette’s seventh generation. The lineup includes:

- ConceptZ carbon fiber hood vent insert
- ConceptZ Carbon Fiber OE-style front fender flares
- ConceptZ rear spoiler
- ConceptZ carbon fiber rockers ConceptZ rear brake ducts
- ConceptZ rear quarter intake ducts
- ConceptZ carbon fiber front fender inserts

JEFF NOWICKI C7 CORVETTE CONCEPT Z PHOTOS

Nowicki Autosport launched his Concept Z last year. This year the car is updated, and Jeff calls it his all-new ConceptZ, which includes a range of styling, and aerodynamic aids for 2015+ Corvette Z06 models.