YOUR GOVERN- MENT, EXPLAINED

● Your Government (An Overview)

● About two and a half centuries ago, the original thirteen (13) colonies operated under the Articles of Confederation: a loose agreement among the colonies for common defense. Lacking any real power or taxing authority, the Articles of Confederation failed. Realizing this, the founding fathers, (Jefferson, Hamilton, Franklin, etc.) assembled a Constitutional Convention to cobble together a form of government that would ^A Work and ^B Endure.

Every political stripe convened: some wanted a strong central government, some wanted none. Some wanted all power to reside in the states, others wanted the states subservient to the federal government. The large, populous states wanted power based on population. Smaller states wanted all states to have equal power. Some saw the merits of a powerful president—like a king, only elected. Others recoiled at the suggestion. They only required one (1) thing: unanimity, and they knew no single political or economic ideology would find unanimous support. The result: a compromise document we live with today, about 250 years later: longer than any constitutional government in world history. Every word of every sentence of every provision of the Constitution withstood the hot forge of passionate argument from every political viewpoint, and survived unanimous vote.

Consider this: Three (3) branches of government—the ¹ President, the ² Congress, the ³ Courts. Out of fear of the ‘Tyranny of the Majority,' the Presidential election is decided by an electoral college. Each state has votes based upon population. The winner of the state gets all that state's votes. This limits the effect of grossly disproportionate state populations.

The Congress has two (2) houses: in the Senate, each state has two (2) Senators; In the House of Representatives, each state gets proportional representation among 435 members, based on population. Both houses of Congress must pass the identical bill by majority vote before the President considers it, and then the President, for ten (10) days, has the option to either ratify it, or veto it. The Congress may override a Presidential veto by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) majority vote. The President can allow a bill to become law by letting it sit for ten (10) days without veto, but if the Congressional session expires before this time expires, the bill dies without ratification.

The Court system ultimately makes judicial determinations as to whether legislation complies with the Constitution, or whether governmental action conforms to valid federal law. The Constitution does not specifically empower the Supreme Court to determine the constitutionality of legislation. In the seminal case of Marbury v. Madison, the Court took this power, and nobody has ever successfully wrested it back. The Court's reasoning was simple: IF THIS ISN'T WHAT WE DO, THEN WHAT ARE WE HERE FOR?

- How does one use the Constitution? Know the following: Congressional Representatives face election every two (2) years, and Senators every six (6) years. Presidential elections occur every four (4) years, and a President may only serve two (2) elected terms. All of these people want to be re-elected and they all need your votes. Know who represents you at every level: your City Council member, School Board member, State Representatives & Senators, Federal Representatives & Senators. Write letters. Send $ money $ when you can. Everyone who disagrees with you—they're doing it: interests of the wealthy and corporations spend millions of dollars each year on lobbyists. An individual can at least spend a stamp. Every politician has a physical address and e-mail address. Many have social media accounts. If your representative does not read what you send, someone on the staff will. Many will allow physical visits to their office with advance notice. You can meet staff and exchange ideas, at least briefly. Many will respond to real human issues, if not general political griping. Ultimately, things accumulate. If your representative simply won't respond, work for the opponent.

● Our founding fathers strove mightily to create a government that gives each of us a voice. Use it. It's as easy as picking up the phone.

The Constitution of the United States, Explained

Preamble

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence*, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

The general purpose of the constitution—form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity.

Article I (Legislative)

SECTION 1

1 All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

The Legislative Branch has two houses—the Senate and House of Representatives.

SECTION 2

1 The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

We elect Congressional Representatives every two (2) years in each state.

2 No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

A Congressional Representative must reside in the State where elected, be at least 25 years old, and a citizen at least seven years.

3 Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

4 When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

5 The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

SECTION 3

1 The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.

2 Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the

We calculate taxes and representation in accordance with State population, and take a census every ten years.

Each State's Governor calls the election to fill a Congressional vacancy.

Only the House of Representatives can impeach. An impeachment is like an accusation. It must be followed by conviction in the Senate.

Each State gets two Senators, who serve a six-year term.

The first Senators' terms were staggered.

Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one third may be chosen every second Year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.

3 No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

4 The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

5 The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

6 The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

7 Judgment in Cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

SECTION 4

1 The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in

A Senator must reside in the State where elected, be at least 30 years old, and a citizen at least nine years.

The Vice President presides over the Senate.

The Senate chooses its other officers, including the replacement when the Vice President can't serve.

Only the Senate tries impeachments. For Presidential impeachments the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court presides. Impeachment requires a two-thirds vote to convict.

Punishment for conviction in an impeachment case includes only removal from office and prohibition from holding office in the future.

The States prescribe when to elect Senators and Representatives, but Congress can alter.

each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

2 The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day.

Congress must meet each year.

SECTION 5

1 Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House judges election contests of its own members.

2 Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behaviour, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House makes its own rules.

3 Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Each House must keep a journal of its proceedings.

4 Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Each House must remain in session unless both Houses agree to adjourn.

SECTION 6

1 The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

Representatives and Senators get paid. They can't get arrested during session except for Treason, felony, or breach of peace.

2 No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

While serving, Representatives and Senators can't hold any other office.

SECTION 7

1 All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Revenue bills must start in the House of Representatives.

2 Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the

To become law, a bill must pass the House and Senate, and then go to the President. The President may approve a bill by signing it, or by allowing it to become effective by waiting ten days.

Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

3 Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

The President can veto a bill, and the Congress may override a veto by two-thirds vote.

SECTION 8

1 The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

No State may independently declare or wage war, etc.

Article II (Executive)

SECTION 1

1 The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows:

The President is the chief elected officer of the United States. Elected with the Vice-President.

2 Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

The President is elected by electors, from the States. Each State gets the same number of electors as Members of Congress.

3 The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; A quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice President.

The majority of electors choose the president. If no majority, then the House elects, and each State gets one vote.

4 The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

5 No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

6 In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge Congress decides the time and place of the election.

The President must be a natural-born citizen, 35 years old, and a resident at least 14 years.

If the President is removed or dies, the Vice-President serves.

the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the Same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

7 The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

8 Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation: — “I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States.”

SECTION 2

1 The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offences against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

2 He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the supreme Court, and

The President gets paid, and the pay can't be increased or decreased during the term.

The President must swear to uphold the Constitution.

The President commands the military. The President can grant reprieves and pardons.

The President can make treaties with the advice and consent of the Senate. The President appoints all justices and ministers with the advice and consent of the Senate.

all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law: but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

3 The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

The President can fill vacancies during Senate recesses.

SECTION 3

1 He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States.

The President shall address the Congress as to the state of the union. The President can convene the Congress.

SECTION 4

1 The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

The President, and all other offices, can be impeached for Treason, Bribery, High Crimes, and Misdemeanors.

Article III (Judicial)

SECTION 1

1 The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior

The Supreme Court is the highest judicial Court in the United States. Justices have lifetime appointments.

Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

SECTION 2

1 The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority; — to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls; — to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction; — to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party; — to Controversies between two or more States; — between a State and Citizens of another State; — between Citizens of different States, — between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

2 In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be Party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

3 The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

The Court's power includes all cases under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

The Supreme Court has original jurisdiction in cases involving public ministers and the States. In all other cases it is an appellate court.

Except for impeachment, all criminal trials shall be by jury.

SECTION 3

1 Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

2 The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted.

Treason requires levying war against the United States, and the testimony of two witnesses to the same act.

Congress can punish treason, but the punishment doesn't extend to the rest of the family.

Article IV (States' Relations)

SECTION 1

1 Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

Each State must respect the laws and proceedings of every other State.

SECTION 2

1 The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

A citizen of any State is entitled to all the privileges of any other State.

2 A Person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

A person fleeing criminal prosecution can be brought back to the State where the offense occurred.

3 No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.

This is obsolete.

SECTION 3

1 New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

Congress may admit new states, but can't carve one out of an existing State.

2 The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Congress can make laws concerning United States property.

SECTION 4

1 The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

The United States shall protect each State's right to its own government and security.

Article V (Mode of Amendment)

1 The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of its equal Suffrage in the Senate.

The Constitution may be amended by a proposal brought by two thirds of the States and ratified by three-fourths of the States.

Article VI
(Prior Debts, National Supremacy, Oaths of Office)

1 All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

All debts valid before the Constitution are valid after.

2 This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Constitution is the supreme law of the land.

3 The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

All Senators, Representatives, and judicial officers must swear to support the Constitution, but no religious test can be required.

Article VII
(Ratification)

Amendments to the Constitution,

Explained

Articles ...

... in addition to, and Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America, proposed by Congress, and ratified by the Legislatures of the several States, pursuant to the fifth Article of the original Constitution.

Articles I – X are known as the Bill of Rights.

Article the first ...

1 After the first enumeration required by the first Article of the Constitution, there shall be one Representative for every thirty thousand, until the number shall amount to one hundred, after which, the proportion shall be so regulated by Congress, that there shall be not less than one hundred Representatives, nor less than one Representative for every forty thousand persons, until the number of Representatives shall amount to two hundred, after which the proportion shall be so regulated by Congress, that there shall not be less than two hundred Representatives, nor more than one Representative for every fifty thousand persons.

The number of Congressional representatives is regulated.

Article the second ...

1 No law, varying the compensation for the services of the Senators and Representatives, shall take effect, until an election of Representatives shall have intervened.

Congress can't change its compensation during the term.

Article / Amendment I
(Freedom of Expression and Religion)

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Congress can't establish a religion or prohibit free exercise of speech or press, or the right to assemble and petition the government.

Article / Amendment II
(Bearing Arms)

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

Everyone gets a gun. So we can have a well-regulated militia.

Article / Amendment III
(Quartering Soldiers)

No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

They can't stick soldiers in your house during peacetime.

Article / Amendment IV
(Search and Seizure)

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

They can't unreasonably search your house without a proper warrant on probable cause.

Article / Amendment V
(Rights of Persons)

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

An accused must be properly indicted. No double jeopardy. An accused may not be forced to testify against themselves. A person can't lose property or freedom without due process.

Article / Amendment VI
(Rights of Accused in Criminal Prosecutions)

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

An accused has a right to a speedy trial, an impartial jury, to confront witnesses, and have assistance of counsel.

Article / Amendment VII
(Civil Trials)

In Suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

A party in a civil trial has a right to a jury.

Article / Amendment VIII

liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

2 The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

3 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

Article / Amendment XIX
(Women's Suffrage Rights)

1 The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Women can vote.

2 Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Article / Amendment XX
(Terms of President,
Vice President, Members of Congress:
Presidential Vacancy)

1 The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

Sets time and place of electoral college vote, inauguration. Provides for Presidential succession in the event of death.

2 The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3d day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

3 If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.

4 The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

5 Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.

6 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission.

Article / Amendment XXI

(Repeal of Eighteenth Amendment)

1 The eighteenth article of amendment to Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

Repeals prohibition of alcohol.

2 The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited.

3 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by conventions in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

Article / Amendment XXII
(Presidential Tenure)

1 No person shall be elected to the office of the President more than twice, and no person who has held the office of President, or acted as President, for more than two years of a term to which some other person was elected President shall be elected to the office of the President more than once. But this article shall not apply to any person holding the office of President when this article was proposed by the Congress, and shall not prevent any person who may be holding the office of President, or acting as President, during the term within which this article becomes operative from holding the office of President or acting as President during the remainder of such term.

Limits President to two elected terms.

2 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states within seven years from the date of its submission to the states by the Congress.

Article / Amendment XXIII (Presidential Electors for the District of Columbia)

1 The District constituting the seat of government of the United States shall appoint in such manner as the Congress may direct: A number of electors of President and Vice President equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives in Congress to which the

The District of Columbia gets electors.

District would be entitled if it were a state, but in no event more than the least populous state; they shall be in addition to those appointed by the states, but they shall be considered, for the purposes of the election of President and Vice President, to be electors appointed by a state; and they shall meet in the District and perform such duties as provided by the twelfth article of amendment.

2 The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Article / Amendment XXIV (Abolition of the Poll Tax Qualification in Federal Elections)

1 The right of citizens of the United States to vote in any primary or other election for President or Vice President, for electors for President or Vice President, or for Senator or Representative in Congress, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state by reason of failure to pay any poll tax or other tax.

2 The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Poll taxes abolished to vote for Federal office.

Article / Amendment XXV
(Presidential Vacancy, Disability, and Inability)

1 In case of the removal of the President from office or of his death or resignation, the Vice President shall become President.

2 Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the Vice President, the President shall nominate a Vice President who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both Houses of Congress.

3 Whenever the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the

ELECTION DATES

- Election Day in the United States is the Tuesday following the first Monday in November.
- State and Local Elections, including primary and special elections, can be held at other times throughout the year. Check with your state or local election office for the dates for upcoming elections in your area.
- Federal Elections are held every two years, on even-numbered years.
- Mid-term Elections (elections held midway through a president's term in office) for seats in the US Senate and House are held every two years. Senate member are re-elected every six years, with 1/3 up for election every two years, and House of Representatives members stand for re-election after two years.

WHERE DO YOU VOTE?

- Cast Your Vote at a Polling Place or Polling Station.

Polling locations are assigned by residential address. Your name will not be on the roster at any other location, so it's important to know your correct polling place. Your polling place may change with every election, so make sure you verify your polling location before you go to vote. For information on your polling place and hours, contact your local election office.

Some online resources that can help you find your polling location, hours, and other details are —

- vote411.org
- headcount.org
- usa.gov/election-office

If you try to vote at a location other than your assigned location, you will most likely have to cast a provisional ballot.

Voters with disabilities have the right to be assigned to an accessible polling place, but may have to request it beforehand.

REGISTER TO VOTE (and Confirm or Change Registration)

● Federal and state elections in the United States are run by the states (See Articles I & II of the Constitution).

To find out how your state runs its election, contact your local or state election office for that state's rules.

Registering to vote online is available for 31 states plus the District of Columbia —

→ vote.gov

You can register in person with your state or local election office. If it's more convenient for you to register elsewhere, you can check with one of these nearby public facilities to see if you can fill out and submit a National Mail Voter Registration Form:

- The Department of Motor Vehicles
- State and county public assistance offices (SNAP / food stamps, WIC, services for the disabled)

If you're a US citizen living outside the US, or if you're a service member, spouse, or eligible family member, you can register to vote and request an absentee ballot through the Federal Voting Assistance Program.

TO VOTE IN U.S. ELECTIONS

You must —

- Be a US citizen.
- Meet your state's residency requirements.
- Be 18 years old on or before Election Day. (You can register to vote before you turn 18 if you will be 18 by Election Day. Check your state's registration age requirements.)
- Register to vote by your state's voter registration deadline.

YOU CANNOT VOTE ...

If you —

- Are a Non-citizen, including permanent legal residents.
- Possess a felony conviction. (Rules vary by state. Check with your state election office to verify state laws.)
- Are mentally incapacitated. (Rules vary by state. Check with your state election office to verify state laws.)

You should re-register or update your registration information anytime you change your name or move permanently.

You can't vote in more than one place.

When you register to vote in a new location, you'll provide your previous address. Your previous election office will then receive a cancellation form from your new election office.

Once you register to vote, you are registered to vote in all Federal, State, and Local elections.

For Primary, General, and Special elections, you should not have to re-register to vote or update your voter registration if you have not changed your name or address.

If you'll be requesting an absentee ballot because you'll be temporarily away from home during the election, you should not change your address in your voter registration.

VOTER I.D. REQUIREMENTS

● Two thirds of states request or require that you provide some form of identification before you're allowed to vote at the polls.

To find out if you need to bring an ID to vote, you can check the following websites:

- usa.gov/voter-id
- ballotpedia.org
- vote.org/voter-id-laws

● About half of the states with voter ID laws accept only photo IDs, such as driver's licenses, state-issued ID cards, military ID cards, and passports. Other states accept certain types of non-photo IDs, such as birth certificates, Social Security cards, bank statements, and utility bills. Each state is specific about the documents it will accept as proof of identification. Be sure you know your state's voter ID requirements prior to Election Day.

Even if you don't have a form of ID that your state asks for, you may be allowed to vote. But some states require you to take additional measures after you vote to make sure that your vote counts. So again, check with your local election office to be check what is required of you to verify your identity.

FIRST-TIME VOTERS

● First time voters who didn't register in person and haven't previously provided proof of ID are required by federal law to show some form of identification.

SAMPLE BALLOTS

● Sample ballots can be helpful to review before Election Day and to bring with you to the polls. Your state or territory may mail you a sample ballot prior to Election Day or allow you to download one from its election site. The sample ballot may look exactly like the real one you see when you vote, and will show you all the races—federal, state, and local—and candidates you’ll be able to vote for, as well as any state or local propositions or measures being decided.

Some non-profit organizations also produce unofficial sample ballots for elections throughout the US, based on locality. These ballots may not look identical to what you’ll see when you vote, but will provide the same information. They are different than the sample ballots often provided by the major political parties. Those ballots, which you may receive in the mail or be offered by volunteers as you approach your polling entrance, feature the candidates representing that party.

First time voters who didn’t register in person and haven’t previously provided proof of ID are required by federal law to show some form of identification. Resource:

TIPS & TRICKS

Making Your

When readying to get organized, for any reason, take things
one step at a time.
We can all feel overwhelmed, but several concrete, simple actions within your power will make your voice heard by those elected to listen.

Voice Heard

As a constituent of these elected officials, who ideally have been democratically chosen to serve on your behalf, you can require them and their staffers to take responsibility for fielding your concerns, satisfactions, and requests via any of the following methods ...

● Helpful Things to Note

● Elected officials care about being re-elected, and they care about their own constituents. They do not want any negative press or social media attention that demonstrates an inability to listen to their constituency.

Document everything. Be as prepared as possible. Do your homework about the issue and official you want to address. Organize your thoughts into brief, fact-based, and potent statements or questions, and be ready with a follow-up if deflected.

Mass

● One of the four actions you can take is to make issue-specific calls to the offices of your local, state, and national representatives. As with the other methods discussed in this section, be as prepared as possible with a focused statement or request for the legislator you're contacting. Your call will most likely be answered by a junior staffer, with instructions to take down your message and pass it along. Take the name of the person responsible for handling whatever specific issue you're calling about, requesting for that staffer by name the next time you call.

Calls

The more personal and to the point your comment is, the more impactful. These staffers receive thousands of calls a day, so anything that can distinguish your call or request as meaningful is worth including. Be polite, but firm, especially if you are calling to challenge your representative on legislation with which you are concerned. You can be persistent in putting pressure on your officials to demand answers or actions if the staffers deflect your question or request (See scripts in Section B of this chapter). Representatives are also usually disproportionately inundated with feedback from dissatisfied or angry constituents, so it's extra appreciated if you call with support or gratitude to acknowledge that they've done something favorable.

Town Hall

● Attend local district town hall meetings held by your elected official. Most cities post their town hall schedules and locations on a dedicated page on their website, usually announced no more than a week prior. A good way to keep track of your individual representative is to sign up for their email list and follow them on social media to receive current updates. Look up their voting records, past statements on a given issue, and committee affiliations, all of which are easily accessible online.

Gather a group of individuals dedicated to attending the town hall, and meet beforehand to create a strategy for making sure your questions are heard by the sitting representative. Send out a press release to local journalists and new media outlets to let them know your agenda and what you're planning on requesting at the town hall, your concerns, etc.

Meetings

SOME TIPS

- “Pack the hall,” but spread out, concentrating on the front portion of the seating area.
- Amplify the voices of members in your group by repeating and expanding upon their comments with yours when called upon.
- Apply pressure on representative not to deflect questions. A saying used by some activist groups is to “freeze it, attack it, personalize it, and polarize it.” If your representative gives a deflective response, ask a follow-up question emphasizing that they are not answering you.
- Questions should be fact-based, detailed, and to-the-point.
- Document with video if possible, and share the results on social media or with local journalists if your concerns were not met in a satisfactory way by your representative or their staffers.

In-Office

● You can make in-person visits to your representative or congressperson at their district office. Find out visitation hours and office locations online. Be pleasant but persistent in asking to meet with your rep (or their staffer, which will more likely be the case), although you can insist that you wait until the representative is available.

Visits

As with town halls, it's helpful to arrive with a group and a unified message, asserting that you are committed to being heard. Be prepared with a specific ask, and factual as well as personal reasons supporting why your congressman should consider it. Have focused material ready to discuss with your rep, including follow up questions as well as printed leave-behinds explaining your position. Document and share on social media, especially if you feel you have not been adequately listened to as a constituent.

Public

● Elected officials attend many public events to show that they are engaged with their communities, which provide another opportunity to bring attention to your issue. Make yourself visible with signs, chants, or voice amplification. If applicable, contact the venue or organization sponsoring the event to let them know your concerns. Record everything and post what's relevant for spreading awareness about how your representative treats your concerns.

Events

Beyond calls, town halls, events, and office visits to your representative, the following are a few more ways to expand your message and take direct action:

- Community organizing.
- Join a group or form your own.
- Phone bank.
- Volunteer for or financially support a legislator whose views you share.

● Phone Call, Step-By-Step

● Set aside a few minutes. ● Find someplace quiet. ● Search for your congressperson's contact information. ● Write out exactly what you plan to say, or use a script. ● Take a deep breath and dial. ● Leave a voicemail; if full, press '0'. You will likely be connected to an operator who will take down your message. ● If you can't reach a human through the district office, try the Washington number. ● Since the operator is likely using a general form to mark your call, the goal is to generate a high enough volume of calls that they must check off individual boxes. ● Read from your script, whether to a voicemail or a human. ● Say thank you, and hang up. ●

Script 1:

Voicemail

Here are some scripts for making calls. Feel free to amend to your liking. You can attach anything personal or factual to your request in order to add impact.

CALLER

Hello! My name is _____ and I'm a constituent of (Congressperson's Name) from (City / Zip). I'm calling to urge _____ to publicly support / denounce _____. This is incredibly important because _____, and I expect (Congressperson's Name), as my congressperson, to address this directly, as it is their responsibility to do so. Thank you.

If you reach a voicemail or a busy signal, you can often get through by calling again or pressing '0' until redirected to someone.

Script 2:

Human

STAFFER

Hello, Congressperson _____'s office.

CALLER

Hello! I'm a constituent of (Congressperson's name) from (City / Zip). Can I please speak with the staffer who handles _____ issues?

STAFFER

I'm glad to take down your comments and communicate them to Congressperson _____.

CALLER

OK. Can I ask who I'm speaking with?

STAFFER

Yes, this is Amanda Brown.

(Cont'd) →

CALLER

Great Amanda, I'm calling to ask what Congressperson _____ plans to do about the issue of _____. I have deep concerns about this as a citizen and as a human being (add a factual, personal reason for this concern). Can you please tell me how Congressperson _____ is going to address this?

STAFFER

Thank you for expressing your concerns. The Congressperson has heard the voices of their constituents loud and clear and has made the commitment to speak out on this issue moving forward.

CALLER

I am very satisfied to hear that. Thank you for your time.

Script 3:

Push Further

This script is continued from the preceding Script 2 : Human. If you're met with resistance after an initial pass, you can always push further / harder.

STAFFER

Thank you for expressing your concerns. I'm just a Staff Assistant, so am unable to speak for Congressperson _____, but I will pass along your message to them.

CALLER

While that's appreciated, I'd like more concrete assurance that Congressperson _____ is committed to addressing these concerns. Can I please speak to a more senior staffer that would be able to answer my question?

STAFFER

I'm afraid we don't take positions on that particular issue.

(Cont'd) →

CALLER

Why is that?

Staffer

_____ issues are the not the jurisdiction of Congressperson _____. We have no control over them.

Caller

I disagree. Congressperson _____ is able to denounce _____ by making a public commitment against it. Why won't (he / she / they) do so when other members of Congress already have?

Staffer

As I said, it is not the Congressperson's responsibility. We are unable to take a position on something we do not control.

CALLER

The Congressperson was elected to represent me, and therefore it is their responsibility to speak out on this. Not taking a position on this crucial issue is unacceptable. If they do not, I'll make sure to share with my peers, online, and with local media that Congressperson _____ doesn't believe it's their job to take their constituents' concerns seriously.

the Judiciary

● The Committee on the Judiciary has been called the lawyer for the House of Representatives because of its jurisdiction over matters relating to the administration of justice in federal courts, administrative bodies, and law enforcement agencies. Its infrequent but important role in impeachment proceedings has also brought it much attention.

Rules

● The Rules Committee has two broad categories of jurisdiction: special orders for the consideration of legislation (known as “special rules” or “rules”) and original jurisdiction matters. A special rule provides the terms and conditions of debate on a measure or matter, consideration of which constitutes the bulk of the work of the Rules Committee. The Committee also considers original jurisdiction measures, which commonly represent changes to the standing rules of the House, or measures that contain special rules, such as the expedited procedures in trade legislation.
