We are searching for an individual who is highly organized, proficient in data management and excited about fundraising. The ideal candidate will play a pivotal role in our team under the guidance of the Director of Marketing & Development. This role offers a unique opportunity to contribute to a meaningful cause — supporting the conservation of arid-adapted seeds in the Southwest. If you are driven by a passion for development work and possess the skills to match, we invite you to join our mission in this vital capacity. This position will report to the Director of Marketing and Development and is based at the Conservation Center.

Native Seeds/SEARCH is a non-profit that conserves and promotes the food and farming traditions of the desert Southwest. Our collection of dryland open-pollinated seeds has cultural roots in over 50 indigenous and other communities. Specifically, the collection includes many varieties of corn, beans, squash, as well as food and fiber plants traditionally grown by farmers of the Southwest. Each year we regenerate a portion of the seed collection for conservation needs and to distribute to the public.
