Subject: OPR-1330-(), Model OPR Life Raft, Minor Change Request

Dear Mr. Gallo,

The life raft drawing OPR-1330-() has had a minor change to it. Revision G and this letter are being submitted to bring our records up to date.

Revision G dated 4/20, is similar to the last revision where we use Note 5 to identify the survival kit, the carrying case (valise) and owner's manual for the valise-packed raft models. In this revision, we added the configuration of the -101 and -102 models to Note 5. Previously, the survival kit, valise and manual for these models were identified by individual part numbers in the Bill of Materials (BOM). Individual part numbers for these items, in the BOM, have been hatched-out or identified as "-()", where the "dash" part number is now found in Note 5.

Additionally, per Note 5, the -116 model now has an upgraded valise, S-4395-4. This valise has a reinforced panel on the bottom for added chafe protection. Note 8 was added to identify the serial number of the raft when this change occurred. A new configuration was added to Note 5 which is similar to the -116 model but uses the original valise. This model is identified as -136.

Switlik has reviewed the design change, and all applicable data, and consider this a minor change per 14 CFR Part 21, Subpart O, §21.619 and as defined in our quality control manual. As no changes were made to the raft itself and the modification of the carrying case (valise) for model -116 has no effect on meeting the requirements of paragraphs 5.7 and 6.2.3.5 of TSO-C70a, Appendix 1, this change does not require a substantially complete investigation to determine compliance with TSO-C70a. Nor does it have any effect on the raft's ability to meet any of the minimum performance standards of TSO-C70a, Appendix 1.
