Operating Instructions

Before using

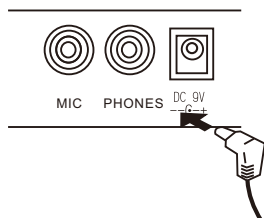

(I). Power Supply

For this electronic keyboard, the external power adapter must be used according to the specified power parameters. Always turn off the keyboard power whenever you are not using it.

*Use external power adapter

1. Connect the external power supply to the external power input on the back of the keyboard (see the picture on the right)
2. Connect the power plug of the external power supply to the AC power outlet.

Note: Only use the power parameters applicable to this keyboard; external power supply of other models may cause fire or electric shock.

(II). Connector

1. Headphone output interface:

Insert the headphone plug into the headphone output port on the back of the keyboard. At this time, the internal speaker of the keyboard is automatically cut off. With the headphone, you will not interfere with others when playing, especially suitable for personal monitoring and night practice.

2. Microphone input interface

Insert the condenser microphone into the microphone input interface to sing and play at the same time.

 Note: Only condenser microphone can be applied to this product.

3. Audio input/output interface

Input: Input other audio to the electronic keyboard and restore it.

Output: It can be applied to connect the audio amplifier through which the sound can be restored. It is specially for the large-scale play performance.

4. USB flash disk interface and USB MIDI interface

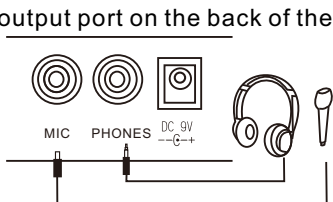

It can be applied to connect the USB flash disk and play any song in the form of MP3 stored in the disk. USB MIDI interface allows connecting to tablet PC and computer for APP connection to realize teaching function.

(for Android system only)

5. Pedal interface (fermata pedal)

Insert the pedal into the pedal input port on the back of the keyboard. At this time, play the keyboard and step on the pedal to give a fermata effect.

Note: In order to adapt to the fermata pedals of different structures, it is best to connect the fermata pedal before the keyboard is turned on, or turn off the keyboard and then turn it on after it is connected.

Maintenance and Precautions

Proper maintenance of the keyboard is significant for extending the keyboard's service life and reducing any possible malfunction. Specific precautions are shown as follows:

1.Dust prevention and moisture protection

Keep the keyboard's surface clean and prevent any foreign material from entering its interior via the gap of the switch or keys. Frequently use the soft dry cloth to wipe its surface. The keyboard shall be placed in the dry place to prevent any moisture. In addition, do not expose the keyboard to the strong sunlight for a long time.

2.Vibration prevention

The keyboard shall be moved or transported with caution and avoid any strong vibration and impact; otherwise, its outer shell or internal electronic elements may be damaged.

3.Corrosion protection

Protect the keyboard from exposing to any acid or alkaline substance; avoid operating the keyboard in such place filled with corrosive gas so as to prevent any risk of circuit oxidation and bad contact.

4.No replacement

The keyboard is a precise instrument, and any modification may even result in any malfunction. In case of any malfunction, please send it to the company's maintenance department or the local distributor or experienced maintenance staff for servicing. Please do not randomly disassemble and replace any element.
