CARE

We use raw leather in its most natural state. It has been processed with organic aniline dyes and conditioned with wax paste. With its minimal protection, it will darken and achieve beautiful patina over time.

For daily care, wipe down with dry soft cloth to remove dust and grime. Clean spills as soon as they occur, before they get absorbed.

For seasonal care, you can chose to keep the leather unconditioned (hand oils and daily wear create patina); or condition with leather products like oil or wax paste. Buff if instructed after application, leather may darken. Follow instructions on the conditioner you choose.

Recondition leather 1-2 times a year (if you live in very dry environment, you may need to do this more often.)

Only apply conditioner to dry, clean leather.

To clean tougher stains, use damp soft cloth, sponge or brush, and leather cleaner like saddle soap or mild pH neutral cleaner. Clean the entire piece in circular motions. Some darkening of color will occur even after it's fully dry. Follow instructions on the cleaning product.

Always test any agents on a small discreet area.

AVOID

Exposure to heat as this will cause faster moisture loss and fiber damage.

Exposure to UV light as this will cause drastic color change.

Using household chemicals, bleach, alcohol, or adhesives on leather.
