SLAB / STUMP PETRIFIED WOOD

- A rare gem created by nature itself, our petrified wood pieces bring an element of organic luxury into any space. They are ancient trees that have been compressed by sediment underneath the ground for millions of years, where the wood's organic materials have been replaced by minerals such as quartz, silicate, and opal.
- Our slabs are available in small crosscut rounds suitable for side or end tables, or larger rectangular or irregular slices suitable for coffee tables or console tops. Each is unique and picked individually.
- Some slabs pair well with our Cipher bases in various sizes and others come with their own base.
- Most slabs have textured bark on sides and polished surfaces with typical thicknesses of 2". Some voids may be filled with clear resin.
- Treat them as you would marble tops; wipe with soft cloth, clean any spills immediately; do not use abrasives or chemicals, use indoors only in dry areas, use coasters and do not place any wet or hot items in the surface.

APPROXIMATE SIZES:

Crosscut slabs: 13 - 27 in in diameter.
Large rectangular slabs 40 - 50 in long and 13 - 22 in wide.
Round stumps are about 12 in in diameter and 15 in + in height.
