SYDNEY CEMETERY ADVENTURES

by

Lisa Murray

Cemeteries are wonderful, quiet places for the living, according to Dr Lisa Murray, author of a new field guide to Sydney's cemeteries. Whether you're interested in family history, exploring lesser-known parts of Sydney, or finding a beautiful spot for a picnic, this comprehensive, expert guide has something for you. Lisa will talk about some of the key features of Sydney cemeteries and sign copies of her book published by NewSouthBooks, Sydney Cemeteries: a field guide (books for sale $35).

Dr Lisa Murray is a public historian and works at the City of Sydney Council where she heads up the history program. She is an award-winning author of planning and community histories, a curator of physical and digital exhibitions, and producer of walking tours, activations, podcasts and smartphone apps. In her spare time Lisa is currently preparing a new book on the history of Australian cemeteries for National Library of Australia publishing.
