PERFORMANCE TECHNOLOGIES

Products that enhance performance, make the game more enjoyable and change the environment in which the game is played. Look for these symbols throughout the catalog and make our products part of your success.

Age specific and gender specific product fit and construction for apparel, footwear and equipment

X-Lite fabrics are constructed with micro denier polyester yarns that give the product the light and super soft feel that players expect for peak performance.

Dri-X is a microfiber (polyester) base fabric that transfers sweat away from the body so that the moisture evaporates faster keeping the player comfortable in training and match conditions.

COOLMAX fabrications allow sweat to evaporate quickly so the athlete is kept dry. The fibers resist fading, shrinking and wrinkling.

Ergonom-X construction provides optimum comfort and ease of movement for the athlete.

Products are manufactured with coated fabrics and seam sealed to keep the athlete dry in extreme playing conditions.

Both knited and woven base fabrications used to build apparel that keeps the player dry and comfortable in moderate conditions.

Products engineered with fabrications and cut lines designed to work with the body in motion. Products both regulate temperature and move with the body.

SOCCERSAFE®

Safety is number 1 with parents, it is the basic expectation of every parent that commits their child to play. The Soccer Safe Program is an umbrella that allows organizations to highlight all aspects of their commitment to a safe environment. The program engages all stakeholders in making sure the game is played in a safe positive environment.

NO VICTORY WITHOUT HONOR®

With the creation of a competitive environment, comes the opportunity for a "win at all costs" mentality to emerge. This win at all costs thinking supports a culture where the values of the organization and the stakeholders are compromised by the drive to win. The No Victory Without Honor® Program allows youth soccer organizations of all skill levels to offer a competitive soccer experience in an environment that remains true to the shared values of all stakeholders.

CHANGE YOUR ORGANIZATION'S CULTURE

PLAYER OF THE MONTH

The Player of the Month Program allows youth soccer organizations to define their point of difference, live their commitment to delivering a better family soccer experience and create a positive playing environment. With monthly and season awards this program recognizes players who show commitment to values that will bring value long after the game has ended.
