

ELLE JOANIE'S PICKS

ACCESSORIES

One of a kind

An actor by trade, ALEXANDRE BERGERON also creates unique gender-neutral jewellery that's made of precious stones and metals and is playful, colourful and custom-fit—all of which made it even more special when my lover recently gave me a bespoke engagement ring by the Quebec artist!

Talent pool

Art Basel—a.k.a. a mecca of contemporary visual arts (and number eight on my bucket list)—is on this month, running from June 13 to 19 in Basel, Switzerland. Is this the year I'll finally have the chance to take in the works of some 4,000 über-talented artists from all over the world?

BEAUTY

New essentials

Never have I had as even, clear and luminous a complexion as I have after using U BEAUTY's facial routine (serum, moisturizer and multi-purpose cream) for a few days. The premium brand, founded by Texas influencer Tina Craig in 2019, offers effective, versatile, smart products that are vegan, sustainable and not tested on animals.

MEN OF THE CLOTH

Menswear has been stealing the spotlight these days, so it's no surprise that it has taken over the Sainsbury Gallery at the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, England, with the high-thread-count exhibition Fashioning Masculinities: The Art of Menswear, put on in partnership with Gucci. Until November, you can see how men's fashion is helping us rethink masculine gender norms with a collection of pieces that spans centuries and includes looks by Harris Reed, Grace Wales Bonner and Raf Simons, paintings by Sofonisba Anguissola and Joshua Reynolds and contemporary artworks by David Hockney and Omar Victor Diop.
