

STOCKING UP ON...

September skin saviours

Joely Walker, beauty & health director

As we segue into September and embark on our yearly skin reset (just me?), there are some exciting new-launch hero products that deserve a spot in your regime. No fuss, no fluff; these do what they say on the tin, delivering notable results. This skin-savvy lot are well worth having on your radar.

◆ U Beauty Resurfacing Compound, £85, is an investment for healthy looking skin. This silky multipurpose serum exfoliates, hydrates and brightens with a targeted formula of vitamins C and E and powerhouse retinol.

◆ Codex Beauty Skin Superfood, £48, is my new go-to for SOS situations. Especially soothing for dry, flaky or irritated skin, it restores balance and calm, with plant extracts and marshmallow (known to ease inflammation).

◆ Kiehl's best-selling Super Multi-Corrective Cream, £58, has had an upgrade with new ingredients, including chaga mushroom, and delivers impressive clinical results.*

◆ Fans of Bobbi Brown's cult classic Vitamin Enriched Face Base should get their (under) eyes on the new Vitamin Enriched Eye Base, £34. Nourishing and soothing, it also works wonders under make-up. In short, it ticks all my boxes.

◆ An absolute steal at £10.99, L'Oréal Paris Skin Paradise tinted moisturiser gives skin a lightweight coverage and healthy glow in a matter of seconds. Suitably impressed.

◆ The UK's go-to beauty box brand, GLOSSYBOX, has just launched its own range of simple yet oh-so-effective and pleasingly affordable skincare. My top pick so far is the Hydrating Mist, £16 for subscribers, £20 RRP, which soothes and hydrates with hyaluronic acid and babassu oil.
