

Side By Side Comparison of the new SPV Fog Pocket Kit vs the Baja Designs Fog Pocket Kit for the 2021+ Raptor

	Baja Dsigns S2 Fog Pocket Replacement	SPV Fog Pocket Replacement with S2 Fogs

Lights Included/Available	2 X S2 Pro Spot #487801 & 2 X S2 Pro Wide Cornering #487805	Choice of ANY Baja S2 Light, Sport OR Pro, Including the same #487801 & #487805. Choose from Spot, Driving Combo, Wide Cornering, Work/Scene
Are Amber Lights Available?	Includes 2 replacement lenses in amber that you can swap out	Pick & choose from any combination of Clear or Amber Sport or Pro Lights, & you can purchase separate Clear/Amber Swapable lenses for $14.95 each anytime
Are brackets available separately?	No	Yes
Will Brackets work with other lights should you ever decide to swap?	No	Yes, Baja S2 Sport or Pro, Diode Dynamics SSC3, & Rigid SRM (Same style as OEM)
Are Plug N Play Adapters for the factory fog connections included?	Yes	Yes
Are plastic covers included?	Yes, 2 black out covers	No, but optional for $8.95 ea #660100
How much does each Pro kit cost?	Retail Price is $869.95	Retail Price is $869.99 with a current sale price of $779.99
How much does each Sport kit cost?	Not available	Retail Price of $607.99 with a current sale price of $539.99
Which is better?	Both kits offer at the least, the same 2 lights from Baja Designs. So you get the same quality & warranty in either case, however, the SPV parts kit adds a lot more versatility & flexibility, both in features and choice of S2 lights. So the choice is really yours. At SPV Parts, we sell, stock & offer both kits. So you can get either one.

Note: Prices & availability are subject to change. Sale and retail prices were correct at the time of this comparison, 11/15/2021