WHAT WE DO

WHAT WE DO

Jasper + Black is a manufacturer specializing in functional trend-forward products for the stationery, gift, and office supply categories. We partner with leading retailers to distribute our owned-brands (Lulalu, Archie Grand, and Toast its) to discerning consumers around the world. With our extensive product development expertise and passion for paper-based products, we are also a specialty promotional products supplier to brands and distributors for custom items such as notebooks, journals, boxed cards, notepads, stationery, and more.

LOCAL ATTENTION, GLOBAL CAPABILITIES

At Jasper + Black, we work with a talented team of professionals across the world to quickly deliver differentiated offerings that support your brand purpose and identity. Comprehensive solutions for paper-based products is our specialty, inclusive of product design and development, illustration and graphics, packaging, manufacturing, as well as warehousing and logistics.

We source products “Made in the USA” and from global partners with offerings for environmental considerations and value-added services. Jasper + Black is a National Gay and Lesbian Chamber of Commerce (NGLCC) Certified LGBT Business Enterprise based in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

MORE ABOUT US

OUR START

We fell in love with the fresh design work being done around the world and wanted to bring these modern ideas to life through gifts and paper products. We launched Jasper + Black in 2007 as an exclusive distributor for leading European stationery brands such as: AtomicSoda, Christian Lacroix Papier, Designers Guild, Fabrica (Benetton) & Orla Kiely.

In 2011, we acquired Mayfair Lane and transformed its range into a new brand, Lulalu, with a completely re-imagined product portfolio in formats suited for global retail accounts. Lulalu joins our other owned brands, Archie Grand and Toast its, as part of our growing set of design-driven solutions for otherwise mundane product categories. By request, we also began to develop custom products for leading brands. Using our retail expertise and design perspective, we now develop forward thinking promotional products that enhance brand value and are coveted by end-users.

OUR LEADERSHIP

Jeremy Black, Managing Partner, literally grew up in the book and gift business and has 20+ years of professional experience in retail merchandising, marketing, product development and licensing across multiple categories including stationery, art supplies, books, and giftware in mass and mid-tier retail channels.
