Polynet Products Limited reserves the right to pass significant cost which can be incurred by overdue accounts, back to the overdue account holder. Accounts remaining unpaid one month after due date may attract a 2% finance fee for every month that the account remains unpaid. Any further costs incurred in recovering an unpaid account will be charged to the account holder. It is only by taking this action that we are able to offer side netting at these very low prices (and profit margins). We would like to thank very much the majority of our valued customers who ensure their accounts are paid on time year after year.
