PHARMACY-ERA SODA FOUNTAIN DRINKS

MINI PIES

Long before ice cream became the mainstay of soda fountains, soda jerks were using milk, eggs, syrups, herbs and even pharmaceutical extracts to create their signature drinks. We consulted The Dispenser's Formulary, a soda fountain handbook published 1905, to bring back some forgotten favorites from this golden age of soda fountain history.

STRAWBERRY PAULETTE 5.00

Chocolate syrup, strawberry syrup, extinct acid phosphate, rhubarb bitters and whole milk—hit with a course stream of soda water to create a foamy head.

CANADIAN FROST BITE 5.00

Pure maple syrup from Heritage Lake Farms in Geauga County, whole milk, a small dollop of vanilla ice cream and a hint of orange syrup, all blended with flaked ice.

RAZZLE DAZZLE 3.50

A refreshing combination of pineapple syrup, lemon syrup, raspberry vinegar and soda water.

MALTED MILK BRACER 5.75

Orange syrup, malt powder, whole milk, a small dollop of vanilla ice cream and aromatic bitters—blended with ice.

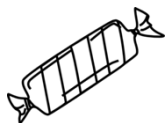

NEW YORK EGG CREAM 3.75

Fox's U-Bet chocolate syrup, whole milk and soda water—combined to create a foamy white head.

Slow down and take a step back in time

Our goal is to recreate the experience of an old neighborhood soda fountain. We collected original soda fountain furnishings and equipment—not just for show but for actual use.

Our speed is often limited by this authenticity. We use a restored 1940s soda fountain, taking extra care and pride when hand-carbonating root beer, and creating sundaes in vintage glassware.

TO SERVE YOU BETTER

Our cashiers may occasionally step away from the register or delay taking new orders to help the soda jerks complete previous orders. Order-taking will resume as these items near completion.

Thank you for your patience.

ALLERGEN WARNING: When placing your order, please let us know if you have food allergies. An allergen ingredient list is available at the register. While every effort is made to prevent cross-contact, all food prepared here may contain trace amounts of peanuts, tree nuts, soy, egg, wheat and dairy.
