NV5 | Online Training Course Design

ONLINE TRAINING - NOW ESSENTIAL TO A THRIVING BUSINESS

Are more of your employees working remotely?

In this era of the geographically dispersed workforce, where employees are unable to be trained in the same room or location, the ability to offer online training has become essential for business success.

Did you know that we can design online training courses that cover any subject matter?

NV5 specializes in helping clients through the online training course design process, from concept to completion. The process is based upon the ADDIE model of instructional design. NV5's course designers will evaluate client needs and present the design process, while maintaining focus on the client's vision and expectations.

The Articulate 360 suite is used to customize training to be exported into NV5's Learning Management System (LMS) or the client's SCORM 1.2 compatible LMS.

Once a clear path forward is reached, the course designer will evaluate the client's current material and collaborate with the client's Subject Matter Expert (SME) to generate or update content and begin the design process.

After the course designer finishes a draft course, a course review link is sent to the client. During this review, the client team will be able to offer feedback for a revision cycle.

Once the course designer and client finish completing final changes and testing, the client's new online course will be ready to deploy!

Customized Online Training

- Course design services. New course creation, in collaboration with client Subject Matter Experts.

- Enhance existing courses. NV5 can take your training to the next level by incorporating interactive training components (in SCORM packages) or offering new design ideas.

- Training can be hosted on NV5's site or the client's site. Adding client courses to NV5's e-learning platform or the client's platform is quite simple. Our course designers can design basic online training from Power Point slides, to elaborate, interactive and engaging training which can be exported into SCORM 1.2 format.

- Thriving in a deadline-driven world. NV5 prides itself in providing quality online training courses for client review while maintaining a fast turn-around time for the project.

- Customizable. Training can be customized to specific needs.

Learning Management System

- A secure LMS. When clients choose to host training in NV5's system, training courses can be "locked" and available through a code or password. Business-sensitive or operationally-sensitive information can only be accessed by authorized users.

- Dashboard control of the client team's training. Our course designer can create a team training site that allows clients to control team training and run customized reporting.

- All of the training a client will need and more. There is no limit to the number of classes NV5's platform can host and no limit to the length of each class.
