OUR STORY

In 2009, Head Baker of Goodness Gracious Cookies, Megan Mottley, set out to raise funds for a Mission Trip to South Africa. Megan reached her goal but it was during that time that she experienced firsthand the fears and frustrations that come along with fundraising. In 2016, Megan's daughter Kaitlin would follow in her footsteps to raise funds for a Mission Trip to Japan. Their first fundraiser totally flopped and the reminder of fundraising woes prompted Megan to roll up her sleeves and pull out her apron & whisk. In less than 2 months, the mother-daughter duo raised over $4,000+ from Megan's homemade soft & chewy cookies. Megan continues to help achieve fundraising success for global missions & local causes.
