

JESUS IS FOR EVERYONE

Jesus, tired from his journey, sat down at the well... He said, “Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again; but whoever drinks the water I shall give will never thirst.” (John 4)

In today’s Gospel (John 4: 5-42), Jesus and his disciples have stopped in Samaria to rest for a bit. When Jesus goes to the well for some water, he meets a woman there. He asks her for a sip of water. This made the woman happy because other people ignored her. She was a woman from a different culture, and she had a bad reputation.

Jesus loved this woman as much as he loved his own friends, even though he had just met her. To Jesus, this woman wasn’t just some sinner who was different from him. She was a child of God.

Jesus looks at all of us the way he looked at that woman. To him, every single one of us is equal, important and loved - no matter what.

So today, while we’re coloring in this scene from the story, let’s celebrate Jesus’ love for us and pray for a heart that sees others the way he sees us.
