Designed specifically for fly-fishing, the MindShift rotation180° Catch & Release is a backpack, beltback and chest pack, all in one! Now you can access all your essential gear quickly and easily, even while wading in a stream.

This innovative backpack features a rotating beltback that is easily accessible anywhere. Simply rotate the beltback to the front of your body to access all your essential gear, including leaders, line tippets, flies, indicators, smartphone, even your camera.

The beltback can also be cinched up to create a chest pack for wading into deeper water — making the Catch & Release three packs in one. You'll never have to lose your fishing momentum and miss that next big fish because you couldn't get your rig in order.
