Race Day Strategy (L)

Race Day Strategy (L)

Nail your 'Race Day' strategy with this Half Iron simulation swim. Follow the session details carefully and practice your complete race strategy by focusing on the appropriate stroke rate changes throughout. This tactical session is best repeated as part of your regular event training in the weeks leading up to your event.

Coach's Tip: Ensure your swim dashboard contains live stroke rate during this swim, so you can practice the tempo you would like to execute on the day. It's best to have an idea of your strategy before diving into this workout.
