

Artist's Statement

“From time to time, I need to escape the busy pace of daily life and immerse myself in the solitude of Nature.

I have a soul-deep connection to peaceful northern lakes, vast forests, and fresh air. My artwork is forged from an elemental impulse to portray that timeless bond so other people, wherever they may be, can share in the wonder of it.

Often, I discover such vistas while exploring new horizons with my husband, by RV, snowmobile, motorcycle, ATV, or kayak.

I capture intriguing images with my camera, and later create watercolour paintings in my studio, usually combining several photographs to compose each artwork.

I want people to feel utterly captivated by my paintings of wondrously untamed places that capture our hearts and ignite our imagination.

Whatever the source of my inspiration, I strive to share in my paintings the quiet moments of heartfelt awe and wonder that I feel in Nature. I use true-to-life colours, crisp detail, and dramatic lighting effects, to give the sense of 'being there'.

If my paintings make you pause, take a slow breath, and smile, I know I have accomplished my artistic mission: to make the world a happier place... one painting at a time.”
