About Veterinary Ophthalmic Consulting
VOC offers the highest standards of medical and surgical ophthalmology for your pet by diagnosing and treating common eye conditions. This includes: dry eye, corneal ulcers, cataracts, glaucoma and retinal disease. VOC is independently owned and staffed by compassionate and experienced team members. We have three different California locations: Anaheim, Palm Desert, and Upland. Dr. Douglas Esson DACVO and Dr. Sara Calvarese DACVO are board-certified veterinary ophthalmologists.

Scheduling an appointment
Please call the desired VOC office to speak with a team member to schedule an appointment. For new clients, you can make the appointment directly or get a referral from your primary care veterinarian. A new client form is available to fill out in advance before the scheduled appointment on the website, vosocal.com. The form can be found under "For Clients"→"New Client Preparation".

What should I expect during my pet's appointment?
During your pet's initial consultation with the ophthalmologist at VOC, our qualified staff will examine your pet and discuss with you the diagnosis and treatment for your pet's eye condition. Any questions or concerns will be answered with the care and attention your pet deserves.

What should I bring to the visit?
If you would like the ophthalmologist to have your pet's medical records, please notify your primary care veterinary office and they can fax or e-mail the records to us. Records are not required for the appointment. Bring any current medications to the appointment or know the names and directions of those medications to better prepare for your visit. Also, please bring your photo I.D. for check-in.
