HOW TO USE THIS REPORT

In the pages which follow, you will see descriptions of your character traits, relationship potentials and challenges, as well as career potentials, and even more. All or most of these sometimes intimate descriptions will be linked in some way with your past lives and your experiences in the planetary realms between lifetimes (the interlife). Yet, you may ask, how can this information best be used?

First, HELP YOURSELF. The enclosed uplifting commentary can only be truly beneficial if you see it as a means of self-help and self-transformation. So to get the maximum practical benefit out of each page of this report, focus on connecting what you read with what is going on in your life now.

Next, LOOK FOR PATTERNS. When you see repeated references -- for instance to similar careers, pursuits or vocations -- you should consider these references seriously. They demonstrate a positive karmic connection which you now have with these same career-related potentials from past life endeavors. So, because of prior life success, these areas of expression should be easier for you to find rewarding or to succeed in, as compared with in other areas.

Also, pay close attention to REMEDIAL MEASURES. For instance, you may be given an affirmation to use in meditation (or a prayer). Or you may be given a crystal/gemstone to wear. These means of balancing out challenging vibrations can indeed be very helpful, especially if used in a hopeful manner.

Finally, this report is a synthesis of past life and planetary interlife interpretations originally given clairvoyantly by Edgar Cayce, for individuals with your same planetary patterns at birth. So in applying this report to your personal life, you should RESPECT INNER GUIDANCE --through dreams, meditation and past life regression for example -- as primary resources for this kind of information; and most important, RESPECT YOUR FREE WILL! You alone must choose and know what is really best for you.

Note: At times in your report you will see reference numbers. These numbers are the index numbers of Edgar Cayce's actual recorded past life reading. The author included these numbers for reference.

Your birth chart interpretation is based on the positions of the planets at the time of your birth.

Astrologer Ry Redd calculated on computer the astrology charts for hundreds of people who received readings by Edgar Cayce which contained astrologically based information. By studying these astrology charts, Ry Redd determined what planetary influences were most likely responsible for the readings by Edgar Cayce. In many cases the astrological basis of the Cayce readings appears to be very straightforward. From this information Ry Redd was able to develop an analysis of your birth chart as Ry Redd believes that Edgar Cayce's psychic readings would have interpreted it. Ry Redd's research effort was exhaustive and was conducted over many years, some of which was spent at the Edgar Cayce library at the Association for Research and Enlightenment headquarters in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

For the benefit of astrologers these positions, along with other technical information, are listed below:

Your Past Life Report begins on the following page . . .

Your Sun is in an inharmonious pattern with Neptune.

You are very unusual, highly intuitive and psychic. You should be closely associated with those who study such phenomena from the spiritual viewpoint, rather than purely academically, as phenomena only. You are a dreamy soul and certainly should keep a dream journal: through your dreams, meditations and even daydream-reveries you have a natural mode of expression in which you can be a source of helpful guidance. Through recording your dream life you can warn and guide many other people, as well as yourself.

You are highly emotional, almost obsessive at times, yet very calm at others. This shifting of feelings is rooted in your difficulty in seeing clearly where your emotions are involved. This can result in self-deception upon occasion, and should be balanced by a focus on spiritual principles and ideals rather than metaphysical ideas.

While sincerity is a very important virtue to you, others do not always interpret your actions in this way. One reason for the disillusionment that comes with your likely conflict between integrity and deceitfulness is your tendency to be continually seeking that which is just beyond your grasp. This mystical, spiritual perfectionist attitude on one hand makes it difficult for projects to be completed, while on the other at times causes others to doubt both your intentions and your real abilities. In turn, you may begin to seriously doubt them too.

While going even most of your life appearing to be peculiar to other people and rarely understood, you have exceptional spiritual insight concerning soul development in the earth plane. You are one whom others may be greatly benefitted through their contact with you.

You should also stay close to water, yet not deep water like that crossed during long voyages. The water influence from Neptune will always be strong in your body-mind and will help keep you tuned to a higher spiritual consciousness.

As a writer, the kind of unusual story you might excel in would have to do with the sea on one hand, say the situation of castaways on a South Sea isle. Alternatively, you could write imaginatively about souls in a purely spiritual or holy life, such as monks, nuns, priests and others who have taken celibacy vows yet are faced with the demands of the material world.

As a remedial measure to balance out vibratorily the challenges described above, wearing the pearl would be well. [2175-1, 2533-1, 2448-2, 2746-1, 2346-1, 1261-1, 2331-1, 1434-1]

Your Sun is conjoined with Mercury.

From former lives when you were involved in oral and written communication as a teacher and scribe, you are a very high-minded individual with a strong desire for information and knowledge. You have considerable creative ability, especially to write -- or even act in -- a good dramatic mystery or a suspenseful screenplay. You have a marked capacity to describe characters and situations in an unusual way. DO write. In addition, you have special capacities to teach others through your abilities as a writer.

For instance, you have marked abilities involving attention to detail, literature, educational factors and especially historical subjects. You could therefore write a good historical novel or help produce a documentary/docudrama which would be a source of inspiration to many.

In fact, you may have a great deal of interest in communications, the media and literature, especially that of an unusual or intuitive nature. Were you to apply yourself, you would make an excellent historian or journalist. With spiritual direction if you chose to do so, you would also make an excellent speaker, particularly on spiritual subjects.

You are also gifted in languages and especially in relationship to teaching not only English but also a foreign language. You would be rewarded through any teaching or ministry involving history, color and natural music, such as the songs of birds, the sounds of whales and the sea.

Mentally, you tend to seek objective results, even in more personal value-laden areas like religion and spiritual philosophy. Your mind is practical, worldly, self-confident and independent, with a marked tendency to categorize and analyze.

Your previous Mercurian lifetime prepared you well for the exercise of authority, yet inclines you to be somewhat dictatorial at times in how you communicate with others. That is, you have high mental abilities but with a tendency occasionally to be rather hardheaded and to want to have your own way. Apply your will toward the ideals of humility and flexibility. Also, try not to take yourself so seriously.

In sum, you are very high-minded, mentally well balanced, with an intellect which is healthy, optimistic and vigorous. You are capable of making for yourself a career in such fields as finance, politics or religion, especially teaching and the ministry. [137-4, 560-1, 759-1, 308-3, 1230-1, 1671-2, 3020-1, 1742-2, 369-3]

Your Moon is conjoined with Saturn.

You are likely this lifetime to experience many changes, often sudden ones. These sometimes major changes may well involve your relationships with others, as well as your purposes and guiding influences. With each change, you may first be somewhat baffled as to what you should do, and you may feel that what once seemed good for you no longer satisfies you. Hence a change for something better.

As a result of the heavy changes you have undergone, you may feel that you have accomplished relatively little in this life. You may often find yourself starting over, whether through negligence, "bad luck" or more accurately, indiscretion concerning your choices (your career, for example). Always beginning again, you may often find yourself seeming to fall further behind.

Your feelings and emotions are derived from previous incarnations: you therefore tend to be highly emotional, very sensitive, shy, suspicious at times, and especially moody. You may often be depressed or have negative feelings about life in the earth plane. These emotions are likely to originate in past lives where you may have been so serious and self-determined in achieving your goals that at times you nearly drained the joy out of those around you!

In this lifetime, then, faith, joy and optimism need to be developed and an innate self-centeredness must be replaced by the greatest aim of all: to fulfill the purpose for which you entered the material plane. Your soul purpose is to magnify and glorify God and the Creative Forces relating to Life itself. You are to be a channel to help others experience more joy, hope and prayerfulness, and become more inclined to do good works. And unless these higher aims become your deeper heart's desire, this lifetime may be more retarding rather than advancing as far as spiritual growth is concerned.

You may often allow your emotions and sentiments to run away with your better judgment. For instance, you are always inclined to give the other fellow a square deal, even to your own detriment. One thing to watch out for is that while you are an excellent go-between and mediator, you should guard against allowing yourself to be used by others who do not appreciate your real abilities and obligations. While you may often let others take advantage of you, holding to higher purposes in your inner being, such as patience, longsuffering, gentleness in the face of discouragement and broken promises, you may well develop faster and further than many who appear to have much better earthly advantages.

In your past lives, you may have treated women unfavorably or been adversely treated by them. Your childhood in this life may have presented emotional challenges through your mother, with whom you may identify strongly although she may have neglected you at times (as you probably neglected her in a past life).

If you are a male in this life these inclinations may result in an unacknowledged resentment of women. To overcome resentment, remember that in the manner in which you treat others you are treating your Maker. For we are all one in God. Keep this principle in mind, and resentment will not be so much a part of your emotions.

Remember, why worry when you can pray? Let your prayer or affirmation be for guidance to be shown -- through your dreams, for instance -- how to share more openly your affections and feelings for others, by both giving and receiving. [1885-2, 3188-1, 2496-1, 1438-1]

Your Moon is in an inharmonious pattern with Mars.

You are strongly inclined to seek an independent career, to strike your own course in life. Your father is likely to be Martian in character or occupation, and to have an unfortunate history, which makes your family background less than ideal. Also, your health may not be as robust as it should be. Outdoor exercise, attention to nutrition, especially your iron and fiber intake, and stress management would do much to strengthen your physical constitution.

Having experienced the wrathful Mars dimension between earth lives, antagonism is likely between your passionate, animal side and your emotional-feeling life. Your emotions at times may get out of control, causing a number of challenges. For instance, you may manifest at times an obstinate, intolerant, "me first" attitude. If you are unwilling to be dominated, you are likely to attract from past lives karma to meet through an aggressive mate.

In your previous life, you may have been an early American settler. During that incarnation, you may well have had some frightening and painful experiences which are brought back to you in this life in the form of the emotional challenges just described. Moreover, you may often be presented with opportunities to deal constructively with separations and quarrels involving souls linked to you from previous incarnations where conflicts were frequent but unresolved.

These challenges will be intensified if your manner is too Martian and dominating. If these argumentative, wrathful energies you experienced during your previous incarnation and afterlife soul journey in the Mars dimension are not moderated by application of your will, you will probably face many challenges with your friendships, family and personal relationships. Your great need here is to set before your inner self such ideals as self-restraint, patience and love.

Do bear in mind that these influences are the RESULT of what you have done ABOUT your past. They are NEVER beyond the reach of your free will choice. For instance, you can choose to avoid acting in your own self-interest. Instead, put your attention toward the purpose of bringing good into the lives of others. Otherwise, you will bring suffering to yourself through an inner war between self-centered fears and passions on one hand and your spiritual development on the other.

That is, trials and temptations resulting from indulging your desires may often conflict with and block progress toward developing your innate spirituality.

As an aid in working with these challenges, here is an affirmation which you might repeat in meditation (though perhaps phrased in your own words): "I will be shown how to come to grips with my strong feelings and emotional strain. I will learn to be more tactful so that I do not initiate a confrontation or take offense too easily when faced with a trying situation. I will instead develop a constructive, selfless attitude toward others, so that I can be of greater service to God." [4286-3, 137-4,12]

Your Mercury is in an inharmonious pattern with Uranus.

This interpretation of your challenging experience in the Uranus and Mercury dimensions between earth lives is given with an eye to maximizing your strengths and minimizing the faults. Having a prophetic, psychic channeling capacity, you are one who speaks what is on your mind at once. Yet if what you say causes offense to be taken and it is necessary to apologize, you will not hesitate to do so. Then, almost as quickly, you are likely to fly off the handle again very easily.

Your at times erratic mental impatience and irritability can be overcome through will's application, especially in the choices you make in your relationships with others. It is absolutely essential, then, that special care be taken in choosing the right associates and partners, particularly your spouse. So, to make the gains in this world that are your due, it is necessary that you control yourself through applying your will consciously in this direction.

Peculiar to this birth pattern, your eccentric mental-communication challenges are more internal, being the result of your own confusion than because of what others have placed in your path. However, your inspirationally sharp mind allows you to adapt yourself to most any situation. And with your abilities in writing and reporting of history-making events, you would do quite well in journalism, especially in coverage of international affairs and diplomacy. Hence your greater vocation lies in the area of communications processes dealing with things of historic import and of a diplomatic nature.

However, without the manifestation of your will power, you are prone to be in disputes. In these primarily intellectual disagreements you will be able to prevail in most instances. This is due to your exceptional mental abilities. Your psychic powers are present as talents for analyzing the minds of others. Yet, with sudden changes often coming into your experience, your willful mental activities as well as use of your psi faculties have the distinct tendency to be overtaxing.

In your bewilderment at times concerning this challenge, it is well that you apply your will to look not for differences but rather for where there can be agreement. For as you magnify differences of opinion as well as differences in what you choose to do versus what others prefer, you are building barriers which can be quite difficult to overcome. All such barriers become karmic obstacles which must eventually be met. It is best in the long run -- and usually in the short term as well -- rather than willfully engaged, that such impatience with others' opinions be willingly avoided to begin with.

Having very decided likes and dislikes, then, you are therefore one who often finds yourself confused. Being somewhat impulsive, when overtaxed and confused you may suddenly decide that something must be done NOW, even if it is the wrong thing. There is really nothing wrong in this as long as you maintain a balance and learn patience.

One way to do this is through meditation and prayer. You might try an affirmation like, "When my mind seems to race ahead of itself, I will discipline my thought processes and express myself calmly and clearly. Rather than jumping the gun on any issue, I will assess information with utmost care before forming an opinion or taking action." [234-1, 195-14, 3062-2]

Your Mars is in an inharmonious pattern with Jupiter.

In addition, Jupiter inclines you to have a broad vision concerning your moral, mental and spiritual associations and relationships in the material world. Your soul experience in the Jupiter dimension between earth incarnations accentuates this vision. However, with such a special Jupiterian experience comes special responsibilities. In making your soul flight from Jupiter, where your consciousness was expanded to great heights, you made an extended stopover in the Mars dimension. Much, then, of the wisdom you acquired was lost, with the result that in this lifetime there is the need for you to overcome certain tendencies. These urges especially include self-indulgence --including not only food and drink but also preoccupation with your own beliefs -- and blaming both yourself and others when things do not work out in your own interests.

Very much wanting to be successful in all that you do, at times you are temperamental, self-willed, over-confident and even brash. From your experience in the Mars dimension after Jupiter and before your earthly reincarnation, you are often so active in pursuing your goals that you occasionally overshoot them. While Mars usually makes for tendencies toward anger and resentment, for you most often the anger you feel is directed at yourself. Nonetheless you are likely to be biased at times by your strong beliefs and opinions, and as a result you may appear to others to be intolerant, even prejudiced.

Also from your interlife experience in the giant Jupiterian dimension comes your inclination for having great thoughts and big plans dealing with large numbers of people and large amounts of money. In addition to being intemperate and lacking in moderation, at times you are easily led, to the point of being taken advantage of by others. Defeats, especially financial ones, may indeed come through the selfishness of others (in part due to your lack of good judgment in business: avoid speculative investments).

However, earnest analysis of your ideals -- especially those related to your material goals -- may well reveal that it is yourself rather than others which brings about these failures to follow through or succeed. For instance, while there are indicators that you tend to be gullible upon occasion, more often it is your own tendency to overextend yourself that gets you into difficulty. Constructive, creative outlets for to rechannel you emotionalism and excitability include music, writing, religion and active, practical approaches to spirituality.

So in carrying out an objective self-analysis, you might try honestly to determine exactly why a given project went wrong, what role your own urge toward excess played in the activity, how much was due to your actions rather than those of others and how it might be avoided in the future. In this same self-healing process, an affirmation you might use either as a prayer, as an aid in your meditations or as a suggestion to your subconscious (ala self-hypnosis) could run something like: "When I catch myself taking on too much, I will slow down and see if the project is really too big for me to handle. By watching myself in this way and moderating my actions I will achieve balance and be in a better position to be of service to others this lifetime." [1235-1, 1143-2, 953-4, 953-13, 1757-2]

Your Mars is in an inharmonious pattern with Saturn.

Mars is the consciousness dimension experienced between earth lives which prompts us toward action and applying energy (whether aggressively, athletically, competitively, militarily or wrathfully). Saturn is the realm of heavy changes and basic soul reprogramming. You chose a day of birth when these two planets were inharmoniously squared off or opposite each other in the zodiac, as seen from the earth. This is a challenging pattern which creates a tendency for you to be pulled often in opposite directions: for instance, you may have urges to act yet feel equally strongly the necessity not to act.

These conflicting, if not erratic, influences have been fed by your interlife soul activities in these planetary heavens, with the challenge wherein you "blow hot, then cold." This results in dissatisfaction frequently entering into areas of your life -- especially your career -- in which your physical energies are directed.

So special effort will be needed at such times for you to exert your will force to control your temperament. This is particularly likely to be true of urges toward anger and a tendency toward hastiness in drawing conclusions and judging others. This is usually because others are not in accord with a specific desire of yours to impel them to think the same way as you do.

In your previous life you may well have been an American pioneer or pilgrim, perhaps acting as a soldier of fortune, or as one of those who condemned spiritualism in New England (which was then called witchcraft). While the action of your will regarding personal ideals of love and unity override ALL astrological and karmic influences, it may appear at times that you take advantage of others, pursuing things which are satisfying to you at the moment.

If and when such conditions manifest, bear in mind that you are part of a larger whole, part of a family, a city, a body of laws, a country, a part of the Body of Christ. Unless you are as considerate of others as you are of yourself, in this natural holistic relationship just described, there will come turmoil and strife. Remember too that soul growth does not necessarily come from some mighty act of courage or grand purpose to carry out through some spectacular experience. And do bear in mind that true spiritual progress comes through what you THINK in your heart day by day.

In fact, anyone is blessed if they have the good fortune -- as you can have through exercising your free will --to turn those forces that seem to block your constructive thoughts and actions into opportunities to revive your soul's purpose in this lifetime.

And it is this very lack of a definite higher purpose that probably drives you through such restless, often self-centered changes and varying interests. Instead, center your purpose in the Christ and prayerfully study and personalize His promises in the Scriptures, especially in chapters 14-17 of John's Gospel.

Above all, know what your ultimate standard, your true purpose, your guiding ideal really is way down deep: that is, determine within yourself, for instance through studying your dreams or other forms of self-analysis, whether your ideal is spiritual, truly creative, or merely for enhancing your ego and for self-gratification. The choice can only be made by you.

On the more resourceful side, you have a naturally good business sense and with application of your will toward tempering your temperament, development of your soul forces --bringing you contentment and satisfaction -- is likely to come near the middle of your life. [1977-1, 3630-2, 1757-2, 4835-1, 1587-1, 1978-1]

Your Jupiter is conjoined with Saturn.

Because of your experiences in Jupiter, the dimension of universal consciousness, and Saturn, the realm of remolding, this lifetime you are beginning anew in your overall reincarnation cycle. As you probably learned in the grand realm of Jupiter, to experience an eternal, continuous at-oneness and companionship with God is the purpose for your soul expression in your earth lives and in the planetary dimensions between them.

This lifetime is a fresh opportunity for you to make great advancement without as much karmic baggage holding you back as in previous lives. Your experience in Jupiter will attract to you fellow Jupiterians who will entrust you with many opportunities for material gain and power. Yet with each will come a test: just one more chance to find out if you have assimilated from past lives the need to be motivated by the spirit of truth and service.

Regardless of the environment -- that is, whether in the body or out of the body -- each experience is an opportunity to be motivated by and apply that which is constructive in your dealings with others. It is never what you know that counts, but what you do with what you presently understand.

For example, you are naturally endowed with the ability to evaluate the actions of others, but you have to act yourself. Because your present life is likely to be pleasant and relatively free of challenges from your cosmic past, you must take advantage of the psychological moment this lifetime will be continually offering you. At times you may have to will yourself to get into the mainstream and face the challenges that come with the choices offered you and the quick decisions you may often have to make (both good and bad usually being presented with each).

If your choices are set in the direction of service and brotherly love, you could become a leader with national and international impact. Let your affirmation and prayer, then, in your relationships with others be, "Let me always be guided, guarded and directed. Let my meditations be consistent with what God would have me be, that I may illustrate in my relationships with others the fact that the Christ has walked and talked with me." [826-2]

Your Jupiter is in an inharmonious pattern with Neptune.

Your experience in the Neptune and Jupiter dimensions between lives carries over into your present life an interest in universal principles, mystical beliefs, philosophical and religious mysteries, as well as the mysterious and magical sides of people's lives.

In these schemes and dreams, you are more inclined than the average soul to go through periods of daydreaming, pondering, musing, whether inward wondering or emotional wandering, you keep many things to yourself. Yet during these periods of inner mental activity ask yourself if you are fully exercising your own true abilities and opportunities this lifetime.

You may long ago have been exposed to the Ultimate Mystic and Universal Principle, the Messiah, or some of His close followers, in the Holy Land during the New Testament period. Yet, in addition to afterlife soul journeys in Jupiter and Neptune, sometime since then, perhaps in your immediately previous life, you may have unlearned some of what you gained in your Early Church experience through, for instance, an early American incarnation when you may have opposed those whose beliefs were different from yours.

As a karmic result, then, when faced with disappointment resulting from deception and domination by others, you may ask yourself whether you are strong enough in your faith. This is emphasized because, in addition to having a pleasing outer temperament and tremendous inner resources from your lifetime in ancient Israel, you have a great deal of strength in your spiritual inclinations and marked leadership potential, especially involving groups and larger numbers of people even in the business world.

However, you may tend to allow your own beliefs, ideals, intuitions and unique capacities to be made subservient to the circumstances, attitudes and beliefs of others. This may have more than once brought you the feeling that you were hedged in by outer circumstances and if you could only have the opportunity for your wishes to be realized, how different things would be for you socially, financially and psychologically!

One likely consequence of this is a tendency toward exaggeration and at times confused shifts of feelings. For instance, you may find yourself going from near elation over some circumstances in your life to downright despondency with other ones.

Moreover, your true beliefs and feelings concerning your relationships with individuals and groups (for example feelings involving deception, exaggeration or simple confusion) are likely to be hidden from those close to you. However, because you are very impressionable, make a special effort to apply your will to stabilize yourself inwardly so you can better use abilities you have in many different directions, whether as a leader or in building and binding friendships. Bear in mind always that through your free will you can always CHOOSE to loose yourself from and stay aloof from relationships that take advantage of you.

Also, remember that the ability to pursue constructively your opportunities as a leader on one hand and to control these challenging situations you are meeting from past life links with others nonetheless lies entirely within you and not another. You must simply will yourself actively to express your innate abilities, perceptions, feelings and intuitions in a direct, straightforward fashion. This includes saying "No" to false friends as well as false beliefs. Were you to do this, supported spiritually with consistent meditation and vigilant prayer to be guided by the Divine Will rather than the will of another, you will find a far freer and greater potential for expression this lifetime. [1929-1, 240-2]

NOTE: The Zodiac signs of the Sun and Moon are analyzed below. First they will be analyzed in the Tropical zodiac. If the positions are different in the Sidereal zodiac, then they will also be analyzed in the Sidereal zodiac. Also, if the Sun and Moon are in the same zodiac sign, then only the Sun position is interpreted; the Moon position, being the same as the Sun position, does not need to be interpreted in this case.

Your Sun is in Taurus (Tropical zodiac).

Taurus' influence inclines you to be somewhat headstrong, with a very set and determined manner. Hence you are not always understood in everything you try to do, or in things which you know yourself to be true. Yet long-lasting are the influences you make on others with whom you have deep associations from previous lives.

Remember, success or accomplishment in life is not a matter of some great force or influence. Just as taught by the Master, it is not the power of the storm or of the earthquake or of great noises and the like. Rather it is the still small voice speaking from within you which becomes the influence through which movements of truly great forces really arise.

Since your childhood, being outdoors and living close to nature is probably more significant to you than to most others. This love of nature and the great outdoors is from one or more past lives spent on a farm or in nature settings. For ages countries on the Mediterranean such as ancient Egypt, Greece and virtually all of the ancient Mideast lived in close contact with nature. So did the Native Americans of pre-Columbian America. And surely you were one of them.

Farming, fishing and hunting then, are among your familiar pursuits (even if they only involve occasional outdoor activities like gardening, boating or indoors, tending flowers and plants). You also probably have greater confidence in holistic, natural healing approaches than in modern medicine's "advanced" yet artificial technology.

Now, Venus is the planet which rules or best symbolizes the essence of the sign Taurus. Of course, Venus symbolizes the female sex. Centuries ago in oriental cultures women were more feminine -- and experienced much more respect -- than today. A lifetime in Asia and lands like China, then, are also a likely part of your past life experiences.[1149-1, 1641-1]

Your Moon is in Capricorn (Tropical zodiac).

Capricorn's influence inclines you to be one who is both a materialist AND one interested in spiritual things.

For instance, you were probably once among the natives of North America, who long before the white man set foot upon this shore, had developed an extraordinarily rich and meaningful culture. In fact, many things associated with the American Indians are likely to be innate talents or otherwise special to you.

From one or more lifetimes as a Native American, you developed a knack for being able to handle powerful changes in your life situation. You also have an appreciation of the balance and organized interplay of Mother Nature and her creatures, as well this natural ability to move with the flow of life around you.

While you have a strong sense of independence and personal identity, you also well understand the necessity for people to live and work together as social beings. Therefore you acknowledge and accept the need for group organization, responsibility and structured communications.

Order, responsibility and structure, along with a capacity to cope and grow with heavy changes in life, are also key influences of Saturn, the planet which rules or best symbolizes the sign of Capricorn.

Now, because of your independent, down-to-earth attitude, carried over in part from past lives when your personal sense of identity was intense, you may often experience a kind of power struggle with your partner. This attitude probably occurred often in times of military involvement with the ideals of victory with honor, such as during the Greek wars between ancient Sparta and Athens. [1869-1]

Your Sun is in Aries (Sidereal zodiac).

From Aries are found inclinations often to be considered by others as being headstrong. You may also be very hard to convince alongside judgments you have made which have been the determining factors in your experience. Yet once you are convinced of something, you become very determined in that particular direction.

This tendency toward self-determination and being headstrong is probably rooted in at least one lifetime in ancient Palestine. Your likely link with the tribal nomads known as the Hebrews is expressed in your urge either to be a powerful yet somewhat dogmatic leader or to be inclined to follow someone with strong leadership qualities.

Also, living in large or extended family units dominated by a strong director or leader (whether male or female), having special admiration for winners, or even being totally submissive to another person who you feel is somehow in charge of you and your life are characteristic inclinations from similar experiences long ago.

Of course, Mars is the primary planet which symbolizes or rules the sign of Aries. This makes Mars and martial urges of special significance to you this lifetime. Therefore, depending on whether or not you apply your will, responding to conflict situations with directness and force are likely to be among your subconscious urges. These urges are from your prior experiences in the realm of Mars and from one or more past lives in the harsh, ancient desert culture of Israel and neighboring Arab lands.

Also from Mars, the Ram influence and this past lifetime in ancient Canaan and Palestine you may feel a need not only to be a leader or director but to excel in your career or in more physical endeavors like exercising or a competitive activities such as sports.[279-4, 340-15, 1804-1]

Your Past Life Decanates

According to an ancient Vedic astrology method still practiced in India, Past Life Planets are realms in which you sojourned between earth lifetimes. They are identified through the position of your sidereal Sun and Moon in the decanates (a decanate is a one-third division of a zodiac sign; each is ruled by a planet). Any patterns involving these Past Life Planets are therefore of special importance. Pay extra attention, then, to any sections of your report which interpret these planets.

NOTE: If your Sun and Moon are both located in a decanate which is ruled by the same planet, then only the Sun position is interpreted; the Moon's decanate position, being the same as the Sun's does not need to be interpreted.

Your Sun is in Sagittarius Decanate

Your sidereal Sun is in the decanate of Sagittarius, which is ruled by Jupiter. Jupiter as Past Life Planet points to a prominent soul journey between earth incarnations in the realm of Jupiter, called Brahmaloaka in Vedic astrology. Your Jupiter sojourn demonstrates that you have reached a high level of development toward a universal consciousness among all men and women.

Your special Jupiter sojourn also indicates you have a strong inner commitment to faith, optimism and group causes potentially affecting large numbers of people. Past lives in humanitarian or spiritual service and ministry, religious, royal and priestly affairs are likely, especially lifetimes in Egypt and the Holy Land.

Your Moon is in Capricorn Decanate

Your sidereal Moon is in the decanate of Capricorn, which is ruled by Saturn. Saturn is the all-important realm to which the soul casts itself for purging and cleansing. Your likely sojourn between earth lives in Saturn's realm points to a major experience of soul reprogramming and self-purification. This brings into your present the essential of a "fresh start" lifetime.

Therefore, armed with self-discipline and excellent organizational and management skills, you will have special opportunities for spiritual progress through the mature way in which you face heavy changes and responsibilities. Also, an early death in one or more prior lives, especially in childhood (or perhaps even through suicide), is indicated.
