

Jessie Rose

Hey everyone.. Crazy to think we are in the Middle of October already! I heard the other day that it is only 10 Sundays to go and its Christmas Day.. Yikes!

Over the past 2 weeks My inspire art classes have been on 'holiday', so it has been a chance to catch up on my coffin painting amongst many other things we don't get a chance to do during the school term.

I have also just come back from a couple of nights visiting my daughter and her partner in Napier which was lovely.

And now another Term begins back at inspire this week which is very exciting...

Inspire Art Classes with Jessie Rose

Term 4 starts this week! I really look forward to meeting my new students and seeing my returning students again. FYI - Angie has sent everyone a txt in the last couple of days about a slight change in class times with it being only a 9 week term..

'The Forever Calendar'

Otherwise known as a 'perpetual calendar' this 'Forever Calendar' has no days of the week or year... so it can be used forever, hence the name! This special calendar is a tangible reminder, something to keep for always and a way to mark those special memories of life, love and loss.

NEW URNS.. ♥

Jessie Rose - 'The Coffin Painter'

I have started painting on a new style of Urn which are quite a nice looking design for something a bit different than your standard Urn shape.. These are available from Morris and Morris Whangarei, Dargaville, Davis Funeral Care in all areas of Auckland, Scotts Funeral Service in Kerikeri and Geards Funeral Home in the far north.
