Pocket-Sized Travel Gadgets

When I travel, I need as much space as I can get for all my necessities, and of course, that extra pair of shoes that I will more than likely not wear. That is why I try to choose wisely what I take with me before packing. I make a list of the items I have to take, the days I will be gone, and what is the purpose of the trip. More than often, it's for work, so I must carry every possible tech gadget I have for the "just in case" moment. Thankfully, I have found a few items that I can easily take everywhere, even when I'm sightseeing or in meetings, because they fit in my pocket!

The Airhook In-Flight Tech Device Holder: Prepare to meet your new in-flight bestie. This retractable gadget turns into an adjustable electronic device holder that can be placed on the top of your closed tray table! Forget about being cramped in your seat and having to maneuver your tablet and coffee at the same time because it even comes with a built-in cup holder. $25 www.TheAirhook.com

MyCharge Style Power Portable Charger: I cannot leave my house, much less travel, without carrying a portable charger with me. Rarely do we get a chance to find a suitable wall socket, especially if traveling overseas. I love that this super funky lipstick-sized charger gives me over 15 hours of extra power wherever I go!! $20 www.MyCharge.com

Wraps Leather Headphones: I am utterly addicted to music and love creating playlists that remind me of places I visit, or enjoying my favorite tunes while I'm away. These cute in-ear headphones with built-in microphone can be worn as a bracelet, giving you instant privacy anytime you need it, in a fashionable way. $38 www.MyWraps.com
