WHEELHOUSE COVERS INSTRUCTIONS

1

Remove the wheelhouse factory carpet on both the driver and passenger sides.

2

Wipe down the sheet metal surface to remove dirt and debris. Use water and mild dish soap for stubborn stains.

3

Begin by installing the tail section. Tuck the top edge under the sheet metal trim. Tuck the bottom edge under the plastic trim. To assure proper alignment you will need to position yourself in the rear-cargo area by the swing gate. Note: when installing driver side wheelhouse product ensure the wire harness and washer hose are fed between the cut slots.

4

Position yourself at the rear passenger door. Place the main section over the wheelhouse. Make sure the bottom section properly sits under the seat. Note: Slightly folding down the passenger seat could help with alignment and placement. If the seat is folded down too much it could block the part from properly aligning and nesting the trim edge at the bottom.

5

Align the hole between the main and tail pieces.

6

Use the supplied snap fit connector plug to secure the main piece and tail piece together.

7

Tuck the main section's top edge under the sheet metal trim and tuck the bottom edge under the available plastic trim.

8

Push the cover far enough so the side of the ridge touches the plastic trim. This will prevent the wheelhouse covers from popping.

9

Repeat the same steps on the opposite side.

10

To ensure alignment

A. If you own an Armorlite cargo mat the wheelhouse covers tuck under the cargo mat. It is designed to nest with it for optimal water management.

B. If you do not have the Armorlite cargo mat, make sure the finished edge on the Armorlite wheelhouse covers follow the contour of your vehicle's wheelhouse and lies flat against the cargo floor.
