

Do You Need Handle-it in Your Operation?

As part of our ongoing customer care programme, we have been providing useful information to keep our customers informed, enabling them to assess and identify the risks within their workplace; and providing them with a platform to make informed decisions.

We have compiled some free questions to enable you to evaluate your workplace requirements without the pressure of speaking directly to a salesman.

Do I need mechanical handling aids?

If you have identified a risk, which can be practicably reduced or eliminated using mechanical aids, then you should provide them.

Moreover, they should be considered as productivity aid as much as a health and safety aid.

Does the task involve?

- Holding the load away from the body.
- Twisting, stooping or reaching upwards.
- Large vertical movements.
- Carrying over distance.
- Strenuous pushing or pulling.
- Unpredictable movement of loads
- Repetitive handling.
- Insufficient rest or recovery time.
- A work rate imposed by a process.

Are the loads?

- Heavy, bulky or unwieldy.
- Difficult to grasp.
- Unstable or unpredictable.
- Intrinsically harmful, i.e. hot, sharp.

At Handle-it we're here for the long run not the short term, we want to help you build your business through safe practices and employee and client care.

Our aim is to provide you with the right tools to do your job with our expert knowledge of the products and their use. Let us work with you to advise and supply your handling needs.
