HOT LIST

2018 COLOR OF THE YEAR

“Deep shades of ultra violet are bold, sophisticated and often unexpected.”

—CATHY RHODES, CATHY RHODES INTERIORS

BUNNY-CAN-DO

The South's doyenne of interior design launched her now-iconic home decor line in 2008. A decade later, Bunny Williams' eponymous BUNNY WILLIAMS HOME collection continues to embrace the idiosyncrasies of handpicked antiques with 20 new intros. Beyond a three-piece Anglo-Indian-inspired capsule collection, find a fun lampshades, a high-back chair, two ceramic lamps and versatile dining tables in cerused oak.

TACTILE TOUCH

It's all about the materials in the new RH INTERIORS COLLECTION, which borrows textured style cues from across the globe, whether it's the deserts of Morocco or vintage 1930s Paris. The tactile collection features shagreen-embossed leather, faux bois, Moroccan cactus silk and merino wool.

Pictured is a luxuriously soft velvet channel coverlet ($276). Available through RH Atlanta, (770) 804-9040; restorationhardware.com

POP OF POPPY

Athens, Georgia-based artist Rebecca Wood of R. WOOD STUDIO ceramics goes bold with the latest color introduction to her line of ceramics. Poppy Seed, a rich charcoal hue, takes influence from the classic cast-iron pan, a longtime staple of Southern kitchens. Wood's works are available in a total of 18 different hues. rwoodstudio.com
