100A [FLEURIEU, Charles P.C. de]. Discoveries of the French in 1768 and 1769, to the south-east of New Guinea, with the subsequent visits to the same lands by English navigators, who gave them new names. To which is prefixed an historical abridgement of the voyages and discoveries of the Spaniards in the same seas. London, 1791. Quarto, 9 folding charts or plans, 2 folding plates of coastal views and one other folding plate, with the half-title; contemporary mottled calf finely rebacked. Plates a little wormed in the gutter and one also a trifle affected across a fold, short sealed tear in two plates, marginal stain on corner of a few leaves; but a very good copy.

Hill 610: 'This work is principally concerned with the achievements of Louis de Bougainville and Jean de Surville, but also contains numerous compilations and translations made from various accounts, both published and unpublished'.

100B FORREST, Captain Thomas. A voyage to New Guinea and the Moluccas from Balambangan . . . performed in the Tartar Galley belonging to the Honourable East India Company during the years 1774, 1775, and 1776. London, 1779. Quarto, frontispiece portrait, large folding chart and 31 other plates and charts, most folding; contemporary sprinkled calf finely rebacked, retaining the original label.

First edition, an excellent copy.

A seminal work on the anthropology, geography and natural history of the Pacific, by the naturalist on the Resolution. Originally intended for publication with Cook's official account of the second voyage, it forms an important supplement to those volumes.

100D PHILLIP, Arthur. The voyage of Governor Phillip to Botany Bay. London, 1789. Quarto, frontispiece portrait, engraved title with vignette, 6 folding charts and 47 plates, advertisement leaf at end; contemporary tree calf, spine panelled with gilt ornaments. Sealed fold split in the chart of Sydney Cove.

First edition, a fine, clean copy in a finely preserved contemporary binding: rare thus. The title-page is in the first state with the medallion vignette including the name of the artist, Henry Webber. $8000-10,000

100E SANDS, KENNY & CO., publishers. Victoria illustrated. Second series. With descriptive letterpress. Melbourne, 1862. Large oblong quarto, 44 engraved plates including additional pictorial title, printed on fine paper and mounted; original maroon morocco elaborately gilt, gilt edges. A little foxing, but generally clean.

The rare and impressive large paper issue, with proof impressions of the plates on fine paper, mounted. One of very few copies issued in this form.

WITH A LETTER FROM BANKS

100F [WILSON, William]. A missionary voyage to the Southern Pacific Ocean, performed in the years 1796, 1797, 1798, in the Ship Duff, commanded by Captain James Wilson. Compiled from the journals of the officers and missionaries . . . With a preliminary discourse on the geography and history of the South Sea Islands, and an appendix, including details never before published, of the natural and civil state of Otaheite. London, S. Gosnell for T. Chapman, 1799. Quarto, 7 charts (5 folding) and 7 plates; uncut in the original boards with printed label, folding quarter morocco box. Joints a little weakened but cords sound, backstrip and label largely intact: an exceptional copy.

First edition: the second, from an entirely different setting, was published in the same year in a smaller quarto format and with the large chart of the Fijis reduced.

This was the first missionary voyage to the Pacific, with the object of establishing a settlement at Tahiti. The seventeen missionaries who arrived there in 1797 met with continual difficulties because of civil war and were eventually forced to flee to Sydney, though some later returned.

With, loosely enclosed, a signed autograph letter by Sir Joseph Banks to the editor of the work, Thomas Haweis: small quarto, 2 pages and conjugate leaf with address, Soho, 12 November 1798, of about 300 words. He thanks Haweis for lending him and 'my friend Dalrymple . . . part of the MS of the Duff's voyage', asks whether he might also see the charts and offers any help he might be able to give towards preparation for the ship's second voyage. Letters of Banks relating to the Pacific now rarely appear on the market.
