Liam Treanor is an award winning British furniture brand offering high quality hand crafted furniture and lighting.

We understand the importance of a cozy and warm, comforting environment. This drives us to produce products that are soft on the eye and pleasant to live with. Our products are built to last both structurally and aesthetically, and enjoy simple forms that do not owe themselves to trends. Our designs embody inspiration from various sources, including the clean lines and bold forms of Mid-Century architecture, traditional British woodworking methods, and the soothing aesthetic of Scandinavian modern.

We take pride in the quality of craftsmanship that is used to produce our products. Material selection and attention to detail are essential in meeting the standard demanded of each piece.

Our mantra of 'intelligently designed products for the home and workplace' informs everything from aesthetic and functionality, to efficiency of production and ease of shipping. This ethos has enabled us to grow with demand, send our products to customers globally, and take on projects regardless of size.

All products are made in the UK, either in our workshops or by some of Britain's finest furniture makers using only high grade sustainably sourced FSC certified timber. Our London-based workshops allow for a versatile service, so we can produce exactly what our clients require.

We work directly with interior designers, architects, retailers and private clients. Offering not only the products in this catalogue, but also a successful bespoke service.

Lowick Side Table

The simplicity of the Lowick side table celebrates the fine details of craftsmanship in the design. The hand turned top and legs create a softness, while clever details such as a flat face on the inside of the legs add a crisp touch.

A vegetable tan leather shelf sits tight to the frame and supplies an additional earthiness to the wooden piece.

Each of the side tables feature a pale brown leather shelf with the exception of the black stained ash version, which features a black vegetable tan leather shelf.

Materials & Variations

Many of our products are made to order and therefore some elements can be altered.

The type of wood can be changed, as can finishes. Please contact us prior to placing your order for special requirements.

We also offer a fully bespoke service for unique products designed and made to specification. All bespoke projects are produced at our London workshops.

All products are made using sustainably sourced materials from Forest Stewardship Council registered woodlands. FSC is an organisation that promotes responsible management of the world's forests.

All products are finished with Osmo oil with the exception of black stained ash which is finished with a clear lacquer. Other items can be finished with lacquer upon request.

Ash is a pale tough course grained timber often with a pronounced grain pattern due to its contrasting pale earlywood and red-ish latewood. Its colour varies from cream to light brown.

Oak is a mid-colour wood with a relatively straight grain pattern. It is strong and durable, a favourite within furniture and building industries for many centuries.

American Black Walnut can range from light brown to dark chocolate with a creamy coloured sapwood. The slightly open grain is typically straight but can be curly or wavy. Perfect for a high end sophisticated look.

Black Stained Ash combines the durability of ash and its strong grain pattern with an elegant black finish. Black stained ash is always coated with clear lacquer.
