HOW WE HELP WITH REFUNDS AND COMPLAINTS

Missing parts	Orders of 50+ units: spare parts included in the original shipment. Smaller orders: notify us of missing parts and a delivery address where replacement parts should be sent.
Manufacturing fault	We will resolve faults due to defective manufacturing. This may be in the form of an appropriate refund to you or a replacement part. You must provide us with a photo of the damage to help us resolve the issue effectively.
Customer returns – no damage/fault	We do not provide any refunds/replacements where customers return units to you, either new or used, if the customer has simply changed their mind.
Damage during initial transit to you	Units are delivered pre-boxed. You must check that units appear undamaged within 7 days of receipt, based on outside packaging. If damage has occurred we will arrange for replacement units or a partial refund, depending on the number of units affected.
Damage during transit to customer	Protection of units during transport from you to the end customer is your responsibility. We recommend using a shipping solution with insurance included.
