

SPECIFICATION SHEET

Description

The Tillman 42 MIG gloves are as tough as your equipment.

The 42 is designed with premium heavyweight top grain Pigskin and a foam lined back for heat protection. With the heat MIG welding generates, the 42 provides a foam lining that will withstand the heat and protect your hands. With the foam lining, the 42 offers some protection to the fingers and knuckles to guard against scraping and provide extra comfort to the inside of the glove.

Plus, Pigskin is naturally resistant to oils and water for use in grimy conditions.
