Bracelet Size Guide

All bracelets come with a standard 7.5" bracelet, with an extra jump ring at 6.5". If you wish to have the bracelet adjusted for you, make sure to add your measurement (in inches or cm ) in the comment section at checkout.

Option 1: Measure an existing bracelet

1. Find a bracelet that fits you correctly and lay it down flat.
2. Measure from the clasp to the end of the bracelet (in inches) and write down your specific measurement.
To ensure it fits comfortably, you can add $1 / 2$ inch if you prefer a loose fit; Or if you prefer a tight fit, you can subtract 1/2 inch.
3. Add your measurement size (in inches or cm ) in the comment section at checkout.

Option 2: Use a Tape Measure

1. Find a flexible measuring tape with inches/cm on its ruler or a long string or a piece of paper.
2. Wrap the tape measure, the string or the piece of paper around your wrist where you would like your bracelet to sit. Aim for a snug but comfortable fit. Make sure to not let the measuring tape go and make sure you start from the zero mark on the tape.
3. If you're using the measuring tape, write down the number that meets up with your starting point at zero. Note how many inches/cm it took to wrap the measuring tape around your wrist.

If you're using the string or piece of paper, mark down where the string/paper ends and measure the length from where the string/paper starts to the spot you marked down with a ruler. Note how many inches/cm long the strong/piece of paper is.
4. Add your measurement size (in inches or cm ) in the comment section at checkout.

Bangle Size Guide

Measure your wrist with one of the two options listed above. Do not add or subtract inches/cm for the fit. Follow the table below to find out which size is yours.
