Fall in love with Italy and more importantly Tuscany all over again. See how Sangiovese plays with other grapes and develops depending on its home soil. world.

Wines included in Under the Tuscan Sun:

Olivi, Orhora 2016

Orhora is a white wine from Verdicchio, Viognier and Sauvignon Blanc, the grapes come from a vineyard situated on the top of the hill at 430 meters with a north eastern exposure. The altitude and sunlight exposure have created a wine with a round, complex body, and aromas of Tuscan lemons and grapefruit.

Olivi, Coreno 2015

The Coreno Wine is a blend of two native varieties from Tuscany, 80% Trebbiano and 20% Malvasia. The barrel fermentation makes this wine elegant, complex and at the same time and full-bodied. Fruit and florals match on the nose and palate, finishing with a fresh acidity.

I Veroni, Chianti Rufina, Riserva 2013

Made entirely from organically grown Sangiovese, this opens with red plum, new leather and underbrush aromas. The full-bodied palate delivers crushed raspberry, black cherry, pipe tobacco and a hint of black pepper, with polished tannins providing backbone.

Mastrojanni, Brunello di Montalcino 2013

On the nose there are notes of plum and ripe black and red berries, hints of baking spice and tobacco with a fresh, earthy minerality. The palate offers a rich and thick texture, supported by a good acidity and elegant and dense tannins, which extend in a long finish.

Isole e Olena, Cepparello 2010

Made up of 100% Sangiovese, this wine has layers of dark, mineral-infused berries, plum and pomegranate notes. An intense wine which can cellar for years to come, yet it is drinking well now, incredibly fresh with well-integrated tannins. Bright, saline notes and an earthy minerality support its long finish.

Frescobaldi, Mormoreto 2015

This wine has a complex nose of ripe fruits such as blueberry and raspberry which are followed by a balanced bouquet of black jasmine tea and toasted coffee bean with a touch of vanilla. On the palate the wine is fresh, complex and balanced. Well integrated tannins blend with the body resulting in a wine that has a velvety finish.
