

Be an Orca Steward!

Around our planet, all ecosystems are connected,. You can have a positive impact wherever you live.

Educate

Adopt An Orca through The Whale Museum. Learn about an individual in the Southern Resident Community of Orcas. Share what you learn with others.

Make dining choices that support organic farming and sustainable fisheries. Get the Seafood Watch or Ocean Wise App on your phone or device.

Choose products that are free of surfactants, pesticides and toxic chemicals.

Get Involved

Report an Orca or any Marine Mammal Sighting to The Whale Hotline:

www.hotline.whalemuseum.org

If you see a stranded marine mammal (live or dead), call your local Marine Mammal Stranding Network. In San Juan County: 1-800-562-8832

Concerned about bad boater behavior? Submit your concern to www.bewhalewise.org.

Listen for Orcas on the Hydrophone Live Stream: www.seasound.org

Specific Issues:

Join local and regional efforts to help with salmon habitat restoration. The Salish Sea Marine Survival Project is one place to start: www.marinesurvivalproject.com

Orca Network is the leader in the Free Lolita Campaign, a member of L Pod who is in captivity at the Miami Seaquarium. Learn about Lolita and Orca Network's other projects at www.orcanetwork.org

Talk to your local representatives about supporting efforts that further orca and salmon recovery.

For more information: www.whalemuseum.org

