

Getting your home Diwali-ready

Use simple vases, fairy lights, and flowers to give a minimalist yet budget-friendly makeover to your decor

November 03, 2023 05:01 pm | Updated 05:01 pm IST

TEJA LELE

 COMMENTS  SHARE

 READ LATER

Let there be light! For it's the season to celebrate. A fresh coat of paint, a new wallpaper, a change of soft furnishings, or upgrading kitchen appliances, can brighten up the occasion.

Courtesy: Pinklay

THE HINDU

HOME / LIFE & STYLE / HOMES AND GARDENS

This year, Pinklay unveiled two special festive collections for the home: Gardens of India and Mahotsav. From handcrafted tableware to furniture and textiles, Pinklay's original designs draw inspiration from nature, history, and mythology. Mahotsav, our handblock-printed home linen range, is a tribute to mythology. Gardens of India, our dining collection, honours the beauty of both new and old gardens across the country. Each piece is designed and ethically handcrafted in India, says Daisy Tanwani, Co-founder and CEO, Pinklay.

Courtesy: Pinklay