

FINE LINES & WRINKLES

Fine lines and wrinkles are formed primarily from the loss of collagen density in the skin. This is caused by a combination of one or more of the following:

1. Lack of circulation and nutrient delivery; we lose 1% of our blood supply every year starting at age 25.
2. A shrinking supply of collagen-making cells and related growth factors.
3. Progressive DNA damage from toxins, emotions, and the sun.

Osmosis offers patented and exclusive protocols for these concerns.
