2024 Timesheet Calendar

The new 2024 timesheet calendar is available in the link below along with the Oregon and Washington calendars.

New Manager Trainings - 101, 201 and 301

All new community managers are required to attend the 101, 201 and 301 trainings. Any of our community managers who have been through the training and would like a refresher are welcome to attend. The dates for the trainings are listed in the Oregon calendar. Microsoft Team meeting invites will be sent out soon.

If you are interested in attending the trainings, please send Sarah Smith an email at:
sarah.smith@cwres.com.

Quarterly Manager Meeting

1/17/2024

All community managers are required to attend. Please look for a Microsoft Teams meeting invite in your emails. If you have any questions, please reach out to your Admin.

5 Ways To Practice Optimism

One:

Focus on what's going well.

You can do this by writing down three things that recently worked out the way you wanted. Describe why it worked out, and give yourself credit for your role.

Two:

Practice gratitude.

Each day when you wake up, right before you go to sleep, or anytime really, write down three things that you are grateful for.

Three:

Learn from your past.

Look back through your life.

Remember the wisdom and strength you gained from a challenging experience.

Four:

Expect good things to happen.

You can do this by imagining yourself doing something that feels good or turns out well. This can help you look at the future with a more positive outlook.

Five:

Discover what brings you hope.

Hope can connect you to an inner strength that can help be your guide.

You can build hope by doing something every day that gives your life meaning.

This might be prayer, meditation, or spending time outdoors.
