

2020 WHOLESALE OFFERINGS

OUR STORY

The Hungry Gnome all started in 2003 when Chef Danielle Sepsy was just 13 years old. She spent her summers out east on Long Island where her family would stop at a local farm stand to pick up freshly baked scones. When Danielle's favorite farm stand closed shop she decided to create her own version of her favorite treat. Friends, loved ones and local businesses quickly caught wind of Danielle's incredible scones and before she knew it she was waking up before school to bake and deliver hundreds of scones.

Fast forward 15 years and Danielle's scones are still the talk of the town. The most common response to her scones is "I never liked scones until I had these, I am obsessed!" Some have even said they would request The Hungry Gnome Scones if it was their last meal on Earth! Our wholesale offerings have now expanded beyond scones to premium quality muffins and banana bread!

Why the Gnome you ask? Chef Danielle named her business after her older sister who has a secret gnome collection. Thank you for ordering and we "Gnome" you will taste the love and passion that goes into every scone! Please contact us to inquire about pricing.
