

The M-12SR Starling Resistant Martin House comes 95% assembled. The roof panels and pole flange are the only components that need to be attached by the end consumer.

The roof panels should be screwed into place using the hardware provided. (See photo below for completed house)

The white plastic piece is the Mounting Plate, and should be attached with the flat side to the bottom of the house, to enable the house to be mounted onto the model MP-15 Martin House Pole (not included).
