MASTER CARBON SEAL 3800 SERIES

Luminox's Master Carbon SEAL is the most advanced and lightweight watch within the entire SEAL collection. The 3800 collection is known for being rugged, ultra-lightweight and boasting with the utmost durability and toughness.

The Master Carbon SEAL falls into the category of Luminox's SEA Collection and is water resistant to 300 meters/1,000 feet, enabling the timepiece to withstand incredible pressure on deep dives. The extra thick sapphire crystal and stainless steel case back help to ensure its water resistance. The Master Carbon SEAL collection also incorporates the Luminox Light Technology for maximum visibility.

CARBONOX™ + Construction

The hi-tech long carbon bars carbon compound, CARBONOX™ +, creates an ultra-strong, durable and scratch resistant watchcase that is three times lighter than Titanium.

This construction results in a lighter, stiffer and more durable case. The material itself is a very attractive anthracite color, that doesn't get hot in warm temperatures or cold in extreme climates.
