Comprehension & Analysis Written Response:

17. The problem in the story is that Mr Hoppy is in love with Mrs Silver, the lovely woman that lives below him. However, he can't do anything about it, because he is too shy, and also because she is much too preoccupied with her tortoise, Alfie. The problem is solved because over a period of 8 weeks, Mr Hoppy tricks Mrs Silver into believing that he has helped her to grow Alfie much bigger quickly. As a result, she thinks he is very clever and agrees to marry him.
18. Example answer based on a. Mrs Silver says she wishes Alfie would grow bigger. Mr Hoppy comes up with the idea of switching out Alfie so that Mrs Silver thinks he is growing. All she has to do, according to him, is speak a magical spell to him in tortoise language three times a day. (Answers will vary.)
19. Mr Hoppy feels really nervous the first time he switches Alfie out with a slightly larger tortoise, because he is really hoping that his plan works. Mr Hoppy feels bold when Mrs Silver invites him to her place to see the bigger Alfie. This courage pushes him to propose to her. (Answers will vary.)
20. One lesson that can be learned is that when it comes to love, you should do anything to try to obtain the love of your life. I don't agree with this lesson because in the case of Mr Hoppy, he went to great, deceptive lengths to get her to love him, so now she has married him based on an enormous lie. (Answers will vary.)
