

Read the Fine Print: All Surge Protection Warranties Aren't the Same

Typical Competitor Connected Equipment Warranty

A magnifying glass with a black handle is positioned over a piece of torn, light-colored paper. The lens of the magnifying glass is focused on a block of text.

The connected equipment warranty covers standard electro-mechanical appliances only. The electronic components from microprocessors to circuits ARE NOT covered under warranty.

Don't damage your bottom line covering the cost of uncovered electronic components.

Invest in peace of mind with the Intermatic AG3000 Surge Protective Device Connected Equipment Warranty. It covers ALL components in HVAC equipment, including:

- Printed Circuit Boards
- Logic Boards
- Electronic Equipment Components

And of course, electro-mechanical equipment components are included in our warranty.
