

Cosmo

The Cosmo fire table is a great example where the lines between “technology” and “furniture” are starting to blur thanks to its seamless integration of fireplace innovation and functional design.

Part of a new wave of invisible technology where sophisticated engineering is concealed behind minimalist design principles, Cosmo combines an environmentally-friendly, clean-burning fireplace with the practical features of a low-slung lounge table. Ideal for modular furniture configurations and interiors where space is at a premium, it enables guests to enjoy the warmth of an open fire without embers, ash and soot ruining the ambience.
