Marsden M-430:

A lightweight, robust, easy to use adult floor scale

The Marsden M-430 is a lightweight and robust floor scale widely used by hospitals, health visitors and patients at home.

The perfect all-round floor scale

The M-430 is a perfect weighing solution for people of all ages and sizes. Due to the high capacity it provides highly accurate readings for almost any patient.

The M-430 is also available with optional Bluetooth connectivity for instant weight data transfer to a handheld device, PC or central database.

The scale can be safely and easily transported with the optional, well-padded carry case.

The scale is widely used to weigh patients at home as part of telehealth programmes.

Available with Bluetooth connectivity

Easy to read display

Robust construction

Measure weight quickly and easily

The M-430 employs a handy 'tap on' feature – meaning, with the tap of a foot, the scale switches on.

Also Hold means the scale will automatically stabilise and hold the patient's weight – not a single button needs to be pressed.

The M-430 is powered by 6 x AA batteries making it a truly portable weighing solution and ideal for use within the community. A mains adaptor is also supplied as standard.

BMI can also be calculated using this scale.

Built to last

Despite its lightweight design, the Marsden M-430 is robustly built. It comes with a full two year warranty and can be kept accurate and reliable with a Marsden service contract.
