CHINESE MARBLE ORNAMENT

of massive thin irregular shaped and moulded rectangular form, possibly depicting an ax head, with circular beveled piercings

Overall dimensions: 11" wide x 20 1/2" high

Undetermined age - possibly a modern reproduction - these ornaments have been a great mystery to the Chinese Scholars - similar in notion to Coptic pieces, they have been found in burial mounds and the meaning of the symbols has been lost in time. Possibly dating 2-3000 years old
