Snaprig Universal Clamp Setup

- Loosen the knob of universal clamp and open it as shown in the image.

NOTE: This clamp has articulating jaws that can grip any irregularly odd-shaped object firmly.

Feature: The jaw's peak-and-valley design allows for multiple points of contact, ensuring a secure grasp every time, whether mounted on round, square, or flat objects.

- Attach the universal clamp to the rod, (Not Included) then secure it properly with the help of the knob.

Feature: The Clamp's jaws expand up to 2.36" and easily grip gear weighing up to 20kg/66lb, offering secure rigging with speed rail, scaffold poles, or even square tubes.

- Attach the Superball Camera Tripod Ball Head (Not Included) to the universal clamp matching the thread 3/8"-16 and secure properly by turning round.

NOTE: The Clamp is equipped with one 3/8"-16 threaded stud, one 1/4"-20 and one 3/8"-16 female threaded hole, making it possible to mount multiple equipment in one clamp.

- The Superball Camera Tripod Ball Head (Not Included) with the help of the knob, do the movement according to your requirement then mount the camera (Not Included) on it matching the thread of the ball head.

- After mounting the camera on the Superball ball head, (Not Included) secure the camera properly as shown in the picture.

- Attach the LCD arm (Not Included) with the universal clamp and secure it properly.

- Secure the LCD by mounting it on the LCD arm as shown in the images.

NOTE: Proaim SnapRig Universal Clamp is a smart solution for rigging your gear, such as a camera, monitor, light, or other accessories, onto unconventionally-shaped platforms.
