Figs

All figs are self-fertile and can produce two crops in a season if summers are long enough. The first crop is produced on last year's wood. The second crop is produced on current season's wood. Figs are ripe when the fruit detaches easily from the branch.

Persimmons

For planting place in the full sun with well drained soil. Dig a hole that measures two to three times as wide and the same depth as the rootball of your plant, follow the planting guidelines handout. Astringent persimmon varieties need to sit until they are soft, while the non-stringent varieties you can eat fresh off the tree. Persimmons are beautiful in the landscape and nearly pest and disease free.
