

Noah Becker's

WHITEHOT MAGAZINE

of contemporary art

ADVERTISE
RECENT ARTICLES
CITIES
CONTACT ABOUT INDEX

JANUARY 2019

"THE BEST ART IN THE WORLD"

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE WINTER SHOW 2019

Robert Young Antiques

Fine European vernacular furniture and folk art

Displaying antiques in a modern manner, the gallery has created a backdrop of words that they chose for their sound and meaning that are painted on canvas and laid down a floor of wide bookshelf planks to present a fascinating array of works. Showing a mix of Swedish English, Irish, French and Italian objects, priced between $750 and $200,000, standout pieces include an outsized pair of scissors made for a tailor's trade sign from the 1880s, a painted deed box with floral motifs from 1850, a life-size wooden fishing trophy from 1920 and a variety of wooden vernacular chairs.